New-York Daily Times.

VOL. IV ....NO. 1237 — NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5 1855. — PRICE TWO CENTS.

New-York Daily Times.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

ANOTHER RAILROAD DISASTER.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

Burning of Passengers on the "Plymouth Rock."

Fatal Accident in the "Daily Times" Building.

FIREMAN KILLED IN BROOKLYN.

Recovery of the Dead Body at Fulton Ferry.

Yesterday brought us a chapter of disasters. A [illegible] occurred in our immediate vicinity, by an accident occurring in the building which is occupied by this paper. Another serious Railroad catastrophe is also to be recorded. And, besides these, there are numbers of smaller accidents.

Collision on the Providence and Stonington Railroad—A Rail Removed.

A serious accident occurred on the Providence and Stonington Railroad, three miles below the town of Kingston, on Monday evening, caused by the removal of a rail.

The Boston train which came through Providence at 7½ o'clock, had reached a bridge at this point, when it encountered an obstruction on the track. The bridge is 30 feet wide and 15 feet long. It is supposed that a rail had been taken up, as a similar act was once before perpetrated at the same place. The baggage car and the two rear end-door passenger cars were completely demolished. Several persons were very seriously injured.

The accident occurred at 8½ o'clock in the evening, the train having at a fair rate of speed. The concussion was sufficiently violent to throw three of the first class cars off the track. The two forward cars (second-class passenger) were badly smashed, and those who were in them were much injured.

Mr. Alex Stevens, residing in Kingston, R.-I., had both legs broken so badly that he was found to undergo amputation.

Mr. Smith, agent of Hamden's Express, had his shoulder dislocated.

David McNeill, of Belfast, Ireland, on his way to California, was so much injured in the back that it was found necessary to carry him to the nearest house.

Another Irishman, named Patrick Hogan, traveling in company with McNeill, and bound to the same destination, was injured in the same manner.

Mary Hanny, of New York, arm severely bruised.

Jos Wood, of Salem, Mass., badly bruised about the face and back, but doing well.

Jos Leary, of Salem, Mass., considerably bruised, but doing well.

Henry Lawrenson, Mail Agent, one leg badly bruised.

Twelve others whose names we could not ascertain, received at least injuries, but were able to take care of themselves.

The engine, tender, baggage, two dead-head cars with [illegible], the second-class car, and six first-class passenger cars, with between four and five hundred passengers, were all thrown off the track, except the two rear end-door cars. The two second-class cars were thrown across the track and completely demolished.

Capt. Brown, of the Plymouth Rock, on hearing of the accident, immediately repaired to the scene of the disaster, and rendered very efficient aid in taking care of the injured and their baggage.

Several persons, who are only slightly injured, came on in the train. The number of the sufferers is estimated by passengers on the train at from twelve to fifteen. The parties who sustained the most serious injuries, between, are those whose names are given above.

The wounded were carried by hand-car from Kingston to the house of Mr. Knowlton, one of the officers of the road, a little mile and a half from the place of the accident. They remained one full afternoon and were made as comfortable as circumstances would permit.

The disabled train remained upon the spot from 8½ till 11 o'clock, and was then drawn down to Stonington by an extra engine. The head car which contained baggage of the drawer of Stonington, brought the remains of twenty odd, who in our hurry and twenty odd. The train reached Stonington at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and the passengers arrived in this City at 11 o'clock in the afternoon.

The effect of the accident upon the first-class passenger cars was comparatively slight. The forward car was thrown off the track and dragged over the crossties, and some so near upsetting that all the passengers in it were thrown from their seats. The second car upset over, and the third was not touched. Mr. Bennett, of Taunton, Mass., who was a passenger in the third first-class car, states that the jar was slight, and that none of the first-class passengers were hurt.

The news of this accident, following on so rapidly upon the fearful disaster at Burlington, caused a considerable degree of excitement in the city yesterday, until the comparatively slight extent of the affair was ascertained. Bulletin boards were so frequently manned, and in motion were made till the worst was known.

During the burning of the steamer Plymouth Rock, when yesterday in this City, a meeting was organized on the subject, in order to express the sentiments of the passengers in relation to the accident.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. Dr. Chickering of Portland.

On motion, Capt. Ezra Caldwell, of Boston, was called to the Chair, and Messrs. L. R. Chickering and J. C. Hudson, of New-York, appointed Secretaries.

The following resolution was offered by Dr. Parker:

Resolved, That a collection be taken up for the aid of the sufferers, and that the Committee be appointed to receive and distribute the same, and that Mr. J. P. Bean, be added to the Committee.

The Committee reported receipts amounting to $[illegible].

A Committee appointed to draft resolutions, presented the following:

Whereas, the passengers of the Plymouth Rock called a meeting to express their feeling in view of the calamity on the Providence and Stonington Railroad, near Kingston, on the night of Sept. 3.

Resolved, That we cannot but gratefully refer to the merciful providence that so many lives were spared in the collision of that fearful week.

Resolved, That we tender our sympathies to the bereaved and their families.

Resolved, That we testify to the remarkable courage and composure of the passengers, surrounded as they were by the darkness, and not knowing the condition of their kindred.

Resolved, That it is with great pleasure we recall the fact that until so much individual and relative anxiety, there was a general calmness and fortitude, and we merely pause long enough to believe [illegible] Rev. Dr. Cheever, of Providence; J. A. Brown, of Boston; Capt. O. Tarbox, of New-Bedford; and E. H. Bass, of Boston.

The meeting was then closed by a prayer from Rev. Dr. Chickering, and by singing the Doxology.

The great praise cannot be awarded to Dr. Parker for his exertions on the occasion. He also added to his [illegible] the sum of $100 to a sum made up on board of the boat.

Fatal Accident in the Daily Times Building—Loss of Life.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a frightful accident occurred in the Daily Times building. Two men, named Thomas Sweeney and William H. Turner, both employed as compositors in the office of the New-York Observer, were descending from the third story to the 6th floor of the building in a box, usually used by them, which conveyed the type of four pages of the Observer. The frame had been worked off and was being returned to the Observer office, situated on the 6th floor of the building. For the purpose of lowering the heavy frame forward, the dumb-waiter of the Daily Times establishment is generally used. The ropes have been often used up the forms when working, but on this occasion, by some indefinable mistake, they both entered the box with the frame, and were drawn up for a distance of fifty feet, when it stuck at the 4th story of the building, where, at this point, the box was narrowed and where it was wedged. The unfortunate lads seized for help, and a man was sent up to remedy the trouble. Mr. Shepherd, the foreman of the Times Press-room, immediately ordered hands, thinking to the boys to have anything to do with, to be had down their assistance. They, however, failed to hear or heed his warnings, and they continued to pry the box loose by pulling at the ropes, when the frame gave way, and the box dropped and the boys were left in the hatchway with great violence.

Sweeney and Turner were instantly crushed. The former received a fracture of the lower part of the spine and pelvis, and the lower part of the intestines was torn through. He lingered but a short time after the accident, and died at the City Hospital before evening.

Turner received a compound fracture of the pelvis and of both legs. His recovery is very doubtful. He remained still sensible last evening, but was in great agony.

Young Stevenson was only 19 years of age, and has a mother residing in Eldridge-street. He was a lad of promise, intelligent and modest, and was highly esteemed by his employers. He had been engaged on the Observer for a number of years, and had but just recovered from a severe wound in the hand, occasioned by a previous accident. Turner was only 16 years of age, and has a mother residing at No. 455 Greenwich street.

Capt Leonard of the Second Police District, was speedily in attendance with his aids, and procured assistance to convey the lads to the Hospital. Drs. Wooster, Hurlbutt and McDowall, rendered immediate and valuable professional aid.

The first words one of the boys uttered was, "How is the other boy getting along?" Stevenson spoke little after his fall. The other lad groaned faintly, but bore his sufferings patiently.

Fatal Accident in Brooklyn.

Coroner Redding of Brooklyn, yesterday held an inquest on the body of John Stutz, who was killed the night before, while on the tongue of the Engine proceeding to a fire on Atlantic-avenue. As Engine No. 15 was coming down the avenue, there were two men on the tongue, and three behind. She was going so rapidly that it seemed impossible for the men on the tongue to keep their feet. Stutz attempted to leave it, when he fell and the Engine went over him.

At a special meeting of Engine Co. No. 12, held at their Engine-house Sept. 4, 1855, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We are suddenly called upon to mourn the loss of our much esteemed friend and fellow member, John Stutz, who lost his life by accident on the evening of the 3d inst., while in the active discharge of his duty as a member of this Company, therefore,

Resolved, That we, the members of Atlantic Engine Co. No 12, deeply feel the loss that we have sustained of one who had endeared himself to us by his kind and gentlemanly deportment, both as a member and a friend.

Resolved, That we sincerely sympathize with the bereaved parents and relatives of the deceased, and would commend them to the care and protection of Him who in His all-wise Providence has seen fit to bring this awful and sudden bereavement upon them.

Resolved, That the Engine-house be draped in mourning, and that the members of the Company wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the members of the Company will attend his funeral, and we request the officers and and members of the Fire Department generally to unite with us in paying to our deceased comrade the last tribute of respect.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of deceased.

D. B. CUMPSTON, Secretary.

Brooklyn, Sept. 4, 1855.

The friends of the family and the Fire Department generally are invited to attend his funeral from his late residence, No 10 Bowne-street, on Thursday next, 6th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M.

The Fulton Ferry Accident.

An inquest was yesterday held by Coroner O'Donnell, at the Fulton Ferry house, on the body of Theodore Rodgers, the man who was drowned on Monday, by falling into the water at the Ferry dock. The body was recognized by Charles Otzen, of No. 4 Delmonico's place, Brooklyn, in whose drugstore deceased was employed. Deceased was running with such force as to be unable to stay himself when he saw that the steamboat had left. Verdict, "Accidental Drowning." Deceased was a single man, aged nineteen years, and a native of Germany.

The Lynn Railroad Accident.

Coroner O'Donnell held an inquest on the body of Emily O'Neil, the boy who was run over by the Second-avenue cars some days since, and which case was fully reported in the Times of yesterday. Verdict, accidental death.

Embankment Accident.

A man named Hugh McLaughlin was buried alive in North First-street, Eastern District, yesterday, while excavating for sand, by a bank of earth falling upon him. His fellow workmen removed the earth in season to save his life, and when removed it was found that he had received no very serious injury.

Accident to the Steamer "Commonwealth."

The Sound Steamer Commonwealth broke her shaft on Tuesday, while on her way from Allyn's Point to this City. The passengers manifested no symptoms of alarm. The steamer was towed up by the Metropolis.

CITY POLITICS.

Whig Senatorial Convention.

The Whigs of the Sixth Senatorial District held their Convention last evening, and nominated Charles Perley. The ballot resulted as follows: George W. Hunt in the Chair; Benjamin T. Rhodes, Secretary.

FIRST BALLOT.

Erastus Brooks	13	A. H. Brown	2
Charles Perley	10	O. H. Lee	2

SECOND BALLOT.

Erastus Brooks	13	Charles Perley	14

Mr. Perley was accordingly declared the nominee.

The Chairman proposed a resolution—"That no one should be appointed as a candidate for any legislative office, who will not give satisfactory evidence of his determination to use every proper exertion to repeal that violation of public faith and freedom, known as the Nebraska bill." Adopted.

It was ordered that a letter should be addressed to Mr. Perley, asking his opinions on the Nebraska question.

WHIG ASSEMBLY NOMINATION.

The Committee appointed by the Whigs of the Ninth Ward met last evening at the corner of Barrow and Hudson-street, to nominate a candidate from the Ninth District, for the House of Assembly. Mr. Clarke occupied the Chair, and John Nash acted as Secretary. Samuel Brevoort was unanimously chosen.

WHIG GENERAL COMMITTEE.

The Whig General Committee met last evening at the Broadway House, but we could not learn that anything was done other than to adjourn over for a week.

The Publishers' Trade Sale.

The sixty-second Publishers' Trade Sale of Books commenced yesterday at the rooms of Baker Brothers & Co., calling together the usual assemblage of crowd Bookseller from all parts of the country. A little extra interest in this year given to these sales on account of a schism among the Publishers as to the manner in which they are to be conducted. A portion of the Trade have set up an opposition sale, which is to come off some ten days hence. As we understand the matter, by the system heretofore pursued, Publishers were allowed to put up a small number of any book, with the privilege of adding to the quantity if the demand was sufficient to require it. The amount sold was therefore limited only by the demands of the trade. By the system proposed in the new sale every publisher must put up the whole quantity he wishes to sell, and can neither withdraw any copies nor add to their number. If he puts up too few, a portion of the dealers must fail of obtaining any copies; if he puts up too many, he must see them sold for what they will bring. To steer between these two errors, requires much observation. The sale this morning spoke well for the prospects of Messrs. Bonaparte. They do not participate in the other sale, and have inaugurated their installation in the new store, and have inaugurated their installation in the new store, and have inaugurated the largest catalogue which they have offered for many years. We have not time at present of counting over the number of books, all of which are publications upon their list. We make a little more than one hundred and fifty distinct works, or about fifteen hundred volumes. Among them are nearly all of their standard publications of former years, besides a large number of new works. They are put up in lots, varying from three to thirty copies of each; it being understood that these numbers will be added to, as long as the demand of purchasers warrants it. Of some of the most popular books, hundreds of sets will be put down. There are few planets between the Publishers and the Booksellers, because of the sale which commenced in Boston, has nothing equivalent in it. The business is one not to be learned in a day, and Messrs Bonaparte seem to be the only firm in the City to which it can be safely entrusted; for the purposes of the trade have been thoroughly considered, for this occasion at least, in past. It is the change of the old firm.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE

By Telegraph to the New-York Daily Times.

THE BURLINGTON CATASTROPHE.

NO VERDICT YET.

The Last Body Identified.

Burlington, N. J., Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The Coroner's Jury held two sessions to-day, but up to the hour of adjournment had not been able to agree upon a verdict. They meet again this evening, and from present appearances their deliberations will continue until a late hour with but little prospect of a verdict.

One body is lying here still unrecognized.

SECOND DISPATCH.

Burlington, N. J., Tuesday, Sept. 4—P. M.

The body that has been awaiting identification has at length been recognized as that of T. Loveland, of the firm of Green, Loveland & Co., merchants, Lacoma, Ill. It was claimed this evening by Mr. Green, his partner, who came on from Boston.

VERMONT STATE ELECTION.

Montpelier, Vt., Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Our State election took place to-day. There was considerable excitement, and a very full vote was cast.

Stephen Royce, the present Governor, has been reelected by a handsome majority. He was supported by Whigs, Republicans, and Know-Nothings. Merrill Clark was supported by the Democrats, and Messrs. Shafter, Temperance; Wheeler, Whig, and Slade, received some scattering votes.

The result for Governor in the principal town is as follows:

Royalston.—Royce, 150; Clark, 51; Scattering, 27

Burlington.—Royce, 363; Clark, 185; Scattering, 22.

Vergennes.—Royce, 138; Clark, 39; Scattering, 3.

Cambden.—Royce, 157; Clark, 78; Scattering, 2.

Middlebury.—Royce, 336; Clark, 65; Scattering, 21.

Rutland.—Royce, 427; Clark, 129; Scattering, 16.

Woodstock gives Shafter 211; Royce, 137; Slade, 97; Clark, 52.

The Know-Nothing Republican party have carried the Legislature without doubt. The returns from 46 towns received here show that result by 3 to 1.

Rutland, Vt., Tuesday, Aug. 4—9 P. M.

The election to-day has been a more exciting one than was anticipated. The returns received here so far indicate that Royce (Republican) is reelected Governor, and that the whole Fusion State ticket has been successful. It also seems probable that the Know-Nothings have carried the Legislature. Nearly all the towns heard from in this County have elected Know-Nothing representatives.

The Know-Nothings have probably carried their Senatorial ticket in most of the Counties.

Fearful Ravages of Yellow Fever at Norfolk—Sixty-four Deaths in One Day.

Baltimore, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

By the boat from Norfolk we have the most awful account of the ravages of the yellow fever in that city yet received. A letter from Dr. Morris says that there were no less than 64 deaths in Norfolk on Monday.

The Herald gives the names of 35 persons who died on Sunday, and says that 50 bodies were buried on that day.

Fifty coffins were sent down from here on Saturday, and orders have been received for one hundred more.

The boat brought up a large number of people who are flying from the scourge, some of whom took refuge in the Rotunda of the Exchange until they can procure lodgings.

A Committee of citizens of Norfolk, headed by Dr. John McCann, passed through here to Washington, to ask the President for permission to remove the remainder of the inhabitants of their city to Fort Monroe.

At Portsmouth the fever is abating, the deaths averaging about ten a day.

The Funeral of Judge Crunch—A Refuge for the People of Norfolk.

Washington, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The funeral of Judge Crunch took place to-day. The members of the Bar, Judges, Municipal Authorities, President Pierce and the Attorney General, were present. The services were performed by Rev. W. H. Furness, of Philadelphia.

The Norfolk Committee waited on the President to endeavor to obtain Fort Monroe as a refuge for the citizens now remaining in Norfolk. They were courteously received, and the Cabinet is in session to-night to consider the subject. The Committee anticipate a favorable answer to-morrow.

All the Ward Committees appointed by the members of the Merchants' Exchange, to collect money for the sufferers from fever, have not yet reported, although thirteen hundred and twenty-three dollars were paid in to-night. This, added to previous contributions, makes about five thousand dollars for that purpose.

New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company.

New-Haven, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

A meeting of the Stockholders of the New-York and New-Haven Railroad was held in this city to-day, for the purpose of considering the expediency of accepting the resolution of the late Legislature, authorizing the Directors to pay or purchase the whole or a portion of the outstanding bonds of the Company, and for that purpose to issue new bonds. The said resolution was accepted by a viva voce vote. The other resolution of the Legislature, by which the Directors are authorized to add to the capital stock of the Company, in order to arrange the difficulty growing out of the fraudulent issue of stock by Schuyler, was fiercely debated, but was not acted upon. The meeting adjourned, to meet on the first Tuesday in December next, in this city. The attendance was quite large.

Admission of T. F. Meagher into the New-York Bar.

Albany, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

At the General Term of the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, held at the Capitol this morning in full bench, on motion of Nicholas Hill, Esq., Thomas Francis Meagher was by a special order admitted an Attorney and Counselor to practice in all the Courts of this State.

The Court by Hon. Chief Justice Parker, in granting the order, made some highly complimentary remarks on Mr. Meagher, and stated the pleasure with which the Court recognized his talents and character by this special mark of its consideration.

Know-Nothing Judicial Convention.

Albany, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The American Convention, for the Third Judicial District, met here to-day for the purpose of organizing the District. Every County was represented. The nomination for Judge is to be made October 4.

Murder of the Captain of the Ship Ariel.

Charleston, Monday, Sept. 3.

The ship Ariel from New-York for Shanghai, was brought into this port by the Revenue Cutter Alice, the Captain, Ayer, having been murdered at sea, as was supposed, by two apprentices named Henry Gerard and George Anderson. The United States authorities have charge of the vessel, officers and crew. The captain was found dead in his berth, on the 17th of August, by the first mate, who, at the request of the passengers, officers and crew, put the vessel back. The apprentices both deny the murder, but criminate each other.

Movements of Southern Steamers.

Charleston, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The steamship Marion arrived here from New-York this (Tuesday) morning at 10 o'clock.

Savannah, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The steamer Alabama, from New-York, arrived at her wharf here at 5 o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon, with all on board well.

Rhode Island Cattle Show.

Providence, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The arrangements for the great Horse and Cattle Show are now being made on an extensive scale. The time for the entry of cattle begins this evening, and continues until 9 o'clock to-morrow, and the premiums will be awarded on the morning of the exhibition. The number of horses is very large, and the list embraces gentlemen of distinguished name. Letters have been received from several members of Congress and other distinguished persons, accepting invitations to be present.

The Steamship Tennessee at Halifax.

Halifax, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The steamship Tennessee, Captain Wallace, from Havre on the 19th inst., put in here at 6 o'clock this morning short of coals, having experienced heavy gales and sustained some damage. She brings no later intelligence than that received by the Canada, and proceeds on her voyage to New-York this afternoon.

From Kansas.

St. Louis, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The Squatter Sovereign of Aug. 28, nominates Mr. Atchison for the next Presidency. It denies the rumor of an intention to annex Platte County, Mo., to Kansas. Says that Kansas is deprived of aid from its Southern allies because it has become a prey to the North. It expresses a hope that the next National Congress will be the last.

State Convention of Colored Men.

Troy, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The State Convention of Colored Men assembled here this morning. It organized by electing Wm. Sisn, of Troy, Chairman. A platform was reported, and will be discussed to-morrow. Fred. Douglass addressed the Convention this evening.

Marine Disaster.

Holmes' Hole, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The brig Philip Larabee, of Bath, from Savannah for Boston, while at anchor on Sunday night, had her stern cut off to the water's edge by a propeller, name unknown. The brig reached Edgartown safely, where she will be repaired.

The New Telegraph Line to Bermuda.

Bermuda, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The Brewer and Baldwin Line of Telegraph is completed to this place. The poles are now being erected to Provincetown, on both sides of Cape Cod, and in a few weeks we will be able to advise you of any disasters that may occur there.

Two Murderers Sentenced to be Hung.

Concord, N. H., Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Hasenell and the woman, Brown, who were convicted of the murder of Stephen C. Warren, were this morning sentenced to be hung on the 24 of October, 1856.

The Ohio and Mississippi Railroad.

St. Louis, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

At an election of Directors of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad yesterday, two separate sets of Directors claim to have been elected.

Fire at Detroit.

Detroit, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The warehouse of G. G. Williams & Co., in this city, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss about $20,000. Insurance, $8,000.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

The Soft-Shell Movement at the Capital—The President's Return—The Fever—The Beings in Kansas

Correspondence of the New-York Daily Times.

Washington, Monday, Sept. 3, 1855.

The Soft-Shell rebellion in New-York produces a sensation. Their resolutions embrace a direct censure of the Administration, so far as we can make them out, for the narrative of the proceedings is very obscure. This is a palpable hit. All the rest is leather and wrinkles, and might as well have been omitted. This is doing worse than last year, when through the same cloud of words something like an approval of the Nebraska wrong was discernible. We have perceived the plan of the Fall campaign marked out with greater distinctness. There can be no fusion of the Softs and Softs, and that between the Softs and Softs and Softs must be a feeble affair, because while the Softs are as [illegible] to Slavery, the Softs Softs are [illegible] and to a streak of independence here and there.

The President is much improved in health, and has been to-day discussing the judicial appointments with the two members of the Cabinet most concerned in that branch of the Government. Johnson, of Kansas, will be displaced, and a successor to Judge Bronson, of Florida, will probably be announced to-morrow. The selection of a successor to Judge Crunch will be a matter of some difficulty. The principal competitors are two or three small Loafoco lawyers, whose practices at the bar is too limited for their support.

The fever at Norfolk and Portsmouth does not extend northward, but has become so dreadfully severe at those places that an application has been made to the Government to surrender for the use and relief of the pestilence stricken inhabitants the sites of the Government works at Old Point Comfort. The two towns will have to be temporarily abandoned.

The Kansas-Nebraska act, examined by the light of experience, developes numerous wrongs and impositions upon the spirit of fair legislation, upon public morals, and upon the Federal Treasury, which were so overshadowed by the transcendant intensity of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, as to escape just denunciation during the discussion upon the bill.

A close analysis of the act does not confirm the impression which I had conceived that the laws of the Territorial Legislatures require to be submitted to Congress before attaining binding force upon the people. Nor does there appear to be any other control over the proceedings of that body than the veto of the Governor and the power of judicial revision lodged in the Territorial Courts.

The proceedings of the conclave of vagabonds called a Legislature have astonished the country scarcely less than the riots by which they were declared elected. Yet, scandalous as these proceedings are, I cannot discover that they exceed the limits of the authority conferred by the act of Congress.

Of this whole infamous episode in our history it is hard to say what part exceeds any other in iniquity. Thus the breach of faith and confidence involved in the repudiation of the compact of 1820 was an instance of meanness and villainy equivalent and very similar to the picking of a man's pocket in the unreserved security of social intercourse. This, however, was no worse not any better than the bribery and purchase of votes by the Executive to carry the bill through, nor that the bribery by which all the rules of proceedings were evaded. Then followed in due order, the nullification of the act in all particulars not favorable to such action, the armed incursion of the Missourians, and finally the outrages upon decency and humanity by the above legislature.

The extent to which the treasury suffers in these transactions, is particularly shown in the following statement:

Legislative Assembly, thirty-nine members at $3 per day	$117
Two Speakers at $3 extra per day	6
Six officers of Legislative Assembly at $3 per day	18
Two officers of Legislative Assembly at $4 per day	8
Contingent expenses of Legislature per day	50
Total Legislative expenses per day	$199

We have, beside, the Executive officers, the Judges, and those supernumerary officials just created by the spurious Legislature, the expense of supporting whom will bring up the charges of squatter sovereignty in this single illustration of it, to $300 per day, or at the rate of $100,000 per year.

Granting the promiscuous assemblage sitting near the Missouri line to be a Legislature, which is an assumption that ought to be scouted by every man of sense and honor in the Union, I do not perceive that they are doing anything which they cannot find a technical warrant for doing in the act organizing the Territory. Thus, even the last and most outrageous of all, (after that creating certain fancy crimes to be punished by death under their sovereignty,) that of electing all the county and precinct officers for six years, in exact accordance with the provisions of the act relating to the subject. Section 7 of the act provides "that all township, district and county officers, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be appointed or elected in such one mode as may be, in each instance, as shall be provided by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Kansas."

Now, whether the Legislature, with the connivance of the Governor, chose to remove the right of suffrage which so flagrantly, or to entrust it to the people, to whom it of right belongs, or whether they prescribe six months or sixty years as the term of these officers, there can be no doubt that either course would be in strict conformity with the organic act.

It is quite plain that the spirit of outrage has gone so far that no remedy remains for the wrongs inflicted upon the citizens of the North in particular, and upon the cause of public order and obedience to law in general, but the restoration of the Missouri Compromise or revolution. And as to the Free-State settlers in Kansas, resistance to any extent to the authority of this spurious Legislature is clearly a right and a duty.

Agnomar.

LONG ISLAND.

More about the Brooklyn Fire Department—Trouble between the Mayor and the President of the Board.

A scene occurred last night which, according to the accounts which have reached us, must have been highly entertaining. The Engine of No 8, as is well known, has been locked up for two or three weeks past by order of the Mayor, in consequence of the very pugnacious disposition of that gallant Company. On Monday last a representation was made to Alderman Barnard, the President of the Board, that the Engine was very much rusted, and would be destroyed unless it were cleaned forthwith. The learned President immediately consulted the law on the subject, and found that the engines were to be kept clean under the direction of the Mayor, the Chief Engineer or the Aldermen. The Mayor had peremptorily refused to allow the Engineer or the Company or the men who is employed to do the cleaning, &c., access to the imprisoned machine, and therefore as Alderman, he undertook to do so himself. Accordingly he proceeded to the Captain of Police, (Smith, of the First District,) and asked for the key, to look after some such purpose. "Now," said he "I am going to take this key." The Captain remonstrated, and said that the Mayor had directed him not to give it to any one. "But," said the Alderman, "you do not give it; I take it against your will, and I will take the responsibility also." The Alderman then proceeded to the house with the cleaner, and there found the engine were enough in a very rusty and dirty condition. While cleaning it in the utmost quietude and peace, by some strange coincidence some members of the Company arrived, and stranger still, it was the night, of all others, in which they held their monthly meeting. Ordinances were again consulted, and it was seen that they were compelled to meet under pain of a dollar fine.

There could be no objection to their occupying their own room for such a legal and proper purpose, and lights were obtained and business commenced. No members were in the house at all, nor was there any notice, as we have been assured; but, while the meeting was proceeding up stairs and the cleaning down stairs, in marched a posse of the First District Police and arrested the whole of the up-stairs party!

Alderman Barnard accompanied the prisoners to the Station house and confronting the Chief Magistrate, said that he had been guilty of a very ill-advised and high-handed measure, and requested to know upon what charge the men were arrested. The Mayor replied, "For breaking into the house."

Alderman B.—You know they did not break in; it was I who opened the door.

Mayor—Then they ought to have arrested you.

Alderman B.—I will go back and open it again if you will dare to arrest me.

Mayor—Well, I don't know that we have any right to arrest you.

Alderman B.—Nor these men either; there is no charge against them, but if you wish to put me to the trouble I will get a Habeas; who do you want to try?

Mayor—Mr. Captain, lock them all up till they are tried.

Alderman B.—There is nothing to try them for; you had better liberate them.

The Mayor replied, with a warmth of conversation exceeding the rules of polite intercourse, that he would not liberate them, but if the Alderman would plead his word that they would not again go to the house he would let them go.

The Alderman would give no pledge, as he asked no favor; he only demanded a right, and dared him to put his threat into execution. Who did he expect would have any respect for an executive officer who confessed himself entirely according to the dictates of his caprice, &c., &c.

After some further conversation in the same strain, His Honor ordered the accompanying firemen to be released. Alderman Barnard held on to the key, and has since, we believe, had the necessary cleaning done to the apparatus, the rusty condition of which weighed so heavily on their minds, and led to the above difficulty.

Latest from the Rio Grande—Progress of the Mexican Revolution.

From the Brownsville Flag, Aug. 18.

Matters across the river remain about as they were at the date of our last issue. Gen. Vidaurri, the chief of the insurgents, is still in Monterey, report has it, regulating matters with the Church. It is said that a letter has been intercepted, written from the citizens of Monterey to Gen. Cruz, at its title, proffering a loan of a hundred thousand dollars to aid in quelling the revolution. This proffer, it seems, fell into the hands of Vidaurri, who straightway informed the worthy sure that, inasmuch as he had defeated and put to flight the valiant General for whom those important "almons of war" were intended, it would be a pity that such an amount of "material aid" should remain idle—so he would take the place of Gen. Cruz and be himself the recipient. This large amount, added to his other resources, has made the revolutionary chief quite easy in his Ordnance and Commissary departments.

It is also said that a force of 1,500 horse has been sent by Vidaurri, to aid a pronunciamento to Zacatecas, the people of which city had asked his assistance, offering to add to the revolutionary fund, the considerable sum of $200 000. This is said to be the cause of the present delay in the march of the insurgents upon Mexico. In the meantime the pronunciados of Tamaulipas, under Garza, Capistran, Tijerina, Bayas and Voldomar, have possession of the entire State, with the single exception of Matamoras, which they look upon as being entirely check-mated, and can be captured whenever they see fit to move their pieces upon it. This general move, it is said, will take place with the concentrated forces of the insurgents about the 20th inst.

Later from the Bahamas.

By the arrival at Charleston of the schooner Aid from Nassau, N. P., we have received files of papers to the 25th August. They contain however nothing of importance.

The Herald of the 22d August, says:

By advices received from Inagua, Crooked Island, and Rum Cay, we learn that very heavy gales had lately taken at those places. The effect is that no large remains of reaping, this season, anything like a remunerative crop of salt. The pans at Inagua are said to be completely overflowed, and the continuance of the next crop almost indefinitely postponed in consequence.

At Crooked Island and Rum Cay the provision crops have entirely failed, and the result is that many of the people are reduced to a state of destitution not little short of actual starvation. The late rains will, doubtless, bring relief to these people in the long run, but, in the meantime, they will have to endure an amount of privation and suffering which it should be the object alike of private benevolence and public charity to mitigate and remove.

Later from Texas—The Elections.

We find but little of interest in the Texas papers, most of them being filled with minute official returns of the late elections in that State. Nearly the whole Democratic ticket is unanimously elected, there having been returns received from all but 15 counties, and it is not anticipated that the vote of those counties will materially change the majorities except to swell them considerably.

In summing up the returns, the Galveston Civilian says:

Frame's majority, we still think, will be about 4,000 votes. It is now about 4,000. Runnels will have, it is reasonable to believe, 2,000—Bell over 4,000. Pease is now about 2,000 ahead, but from the votes yet to come in, we incline to believe his election over Chorry exceedingly doubtful—indeed, hardly probable.

For the Legislature, the Democrats claim to have elected five Senators and 15 Representatives, but it is alleged that a good many of them are K. N's in disguise.

Shipwrecks in Philadelphia.

From the Ledger, Sept. 4.

U. S. District Court.—Judge Kane.—Yesterday morning a libel was filed, and Mr. Jones, commenced by her mate, made application on behalf of a crew to be dismissed from and released from the custody and hand of her master, Mr. Jones. The master made reply, that it is true he had some women (mulattoes) now in the possession of the defendant, who formerly his slaves for life, and resided with him in the State of Georgia, but he does not now claim to hold her as a slave, having emancipated them, she desired to do so, and permitted him to come to Philadelphia to reside and live as a free woman; he having already sent her all the claim to her and her children, and, when, and in writing by his attorney, and of course, he, in such instance as she desired, would be a decent and shall fully satisfy these facts, and to show the evidence that she is free. The Court to stand accordingly.

The [illegible] master brought his slaves to Philadelphia, the express purpose of emancipating them, as that act cannot be performed in the State of Georgia.

A NEW SECRET SOCIETY.

A WHEEL WITHIN A WHEEL.

The New Order of Templars.

Its Objects, Plans, Order and Numbers.

Full and Authentic Exposition of its Ritual.

In the various notices published from time to time of the mysterious Operatic of the Know-Nothings, and the Independent Order of Americans, it has been announced that they would connect to the [illegible] and brought about by an organized class of persons within the order,—who acted together and were thus always able to accomplish their purposes. By the action of this inside class, many measures have been forced upon the Know-Nothings, that not at all acceptable to the great body of the members, and as its organization is not known beyond its ranks, many of the Know-Nothings have been puzzled to understand the cause of the measures they have noticed round them.

The new party, which has been secretly and diligently put up on the same plan as the Know-Nothing party, and with the design of controlling that year as that has controlled others, is called the "Templars," or more properly, "The Templars," and is known to exist in the present time from 500 to 600 members in the City and County of New-York. By operations inside of the Order of Know-Nothings, it succeeded in influencing the action of the Eighth, Eleventh and Twelfth Ward Councils. The entire N. N. Executive is controlled by the "Templars," and they have thirteen members in the Grand Council of the State of New-York. Previous to the late Convention at Binghamton a Grand Temple was opened in Albany by Messrs. Brown, Bellows, and Wheeler, for the purpose of controlling the action of the Know-Nothing party. In this they were successful, and the union "American ticket," as it is called, is the ticket supported by the "Independent Order of Americans," "Templars," or the Know-Nothing party in various cities. But chiefly in the order of the Order of United Americans, this Organization was [illegible] elsewhere. By pushing the various [illegible] with its members, they were enabled to [illegible] which that party deemed essential to its success.

The following are the officers of the "Grand Temple:"

President—J. B. Bacon.

Vice-President—T. Bellows.

Secretary—C. S. Gregory.

Treasurer—A. G. Williams.

There are sixty-five Temples in this State, all of which have received their charters from the Grand President of Temple No. 2, Convention Hall, Chambers-street, Fifteenth Ward. The number [illegible] of our correspondent that E. S. Tweed, [illegible] Sheriff, was a member, is untrue; Mr. Tweed never appeared there. The rest of the E. N. Order is ordered by the Templars.

The original grade-words of the Order were as follows:

First Rose—Temple.

Second Rose—Death.

Signal of Distress—Bethesda.

Thus, however, have been quite recently changed. George W. Hanson is a man of [illegible] and patriotism in this new Order, as in the Know-Nothing.

In order that the full scope and plans of the new Secret Order may be known, and its principles of [illegible] thoroughly understood, we give place to the following full and exclusive account of the Order, Constitution, Pledges, Ceremonies, &c., &c., &c., &c.

[illegible]

Illustrations in Philadelphia.

From the Ledger, Sept. 4.

U. S. Distrnct Court.—Judge Kane.—Yesterday morning a libel was filed, and Mr. Jones, commenced by her mate, made application on behalf of a crew to be dismissed from and released from the custody and hand of her master, Mr. Jones. The master made reply, that it is true he had some women (mulattoes) now in the possession of the defendant, who formerly his slaves for life, and resided with him in the State of Georgia, but he does not now claim to hold her as a slave, having emancipated them, she desired to do so, and permitted him to come to Philadelphia to reside and live as a free woman; he having already sent her all claim to her and her children, and, when, and in writing by his attorney, and of course, he, in such instance as she desired, would be a decent and shall fully satisfy these facts, and to show the evidence that she is free. The Court to stand accordingly.

The [illegible] master brought his slaves to Philadelphia, the express purpose of emancipating them, as that act cannot be performed in the State of Georgia.

THE GREAT SECRET DISCOVERED

OR,

Stephen H. Branch's Tour Through Europe in Search of the Birthplace of Our Chief.

WONDERFUL ADVENTURES.

Troubles and Trials; Joys and Sorrows of Mr. Branch.

With a Full Account of His Peculiar Sensations.

HE TRIUMPHS.

Where Little Georgy Matsell Was Born.

George now Weighs Three Hundred and Fifty Pounds Avoirdupois.

To Aldermen Briggs, Tucker and Hoffman, of the Special Police Investigating Committee:

THE BRANCH GOES TO ENGLAND.

GENTLEMEN: I left East Boston in the steamship America, July 18, 1855, at 12½ P. M., for England; reached Halifax, N. S., at 4 A. M., July 20; stopped about one hour, and arrived at Liverpool July 29, 1855; left Liverpool in the rail cars July 30, and reached Brandon, England, July 31; saw Mr. Farrow, the Parish Clerk, and Mr. Clark, the Postmaster of Brandon, both of whom told me that the Rector of St. Mary's Church, of Brandon, (Rev. Mr. Warren,) had gone to London; left Brandon for London July 31, and arrived at midnight on August 1; saw Rev. Mr. Warren, and got from him the following note to Mr. Farrow, the Parish Clerk of Brandon:

IN AN IRON CHEST.

"Mr. Farrow, will you go to the Rectory with the bearer of this note; ask Mr. Nunn to go up, get your keys, and let the Register of Baptisms about fifty years back. They are kept in an iron chest in the closet at the back of my rooms. You copy out what relates to the requires, and send them up to me by him, and I will do the rest.

Yours, &c., SAMUEL WARREN.

LONDON, August 1, 1855.

AND SEES A PARISH CLERK AND A NUNN.

I returned to Brandon, and went to the Parish Clerk's residence, but was informed by his wife that he had gone to Derry, fifteen miles distant. I then went to Rev. Mr. Warren's residence in the suburbs of Brandon, through meandering paths, passing through the churchyard of St. Mary's, and by the graves of a thousand years. Saw Mrs. Nunn, who superintends Rev. Mr. Warren's residence during his absence in London.

MR. BRANCH CONVERSES WITH THE NUNN.

Told Mrs. Nunn that I had a note from Rev. Mr. Warren, addressed to Mr. Farrow, the Parish Clerk, who had gone to Derry, and who would not return till 8 P. M.; that inasmuch as Rev. Mr. Warren had mentioned her name in the note, respecting letting me see the baptismal records, and inasmuch as Mr. Farrow was absent from Brandon, that I could not see any impropriety in her opening the note. She replied that she was no scholar. I then told her if she would break the seal that I would read the note to her. She did so. I then read the note, after which she went with myself up stairs, through a very large room, into a large closet, where was a massive iron chest, of great antiquity. She opened it and began to take out the bound books containing the baptismal, death and marriage records of several hundred years. The first baptismal records that she handed me were from the fifteenth to the sixteenth century.

HIS HEART BEATETH AND HE BECOMETH NERVOUS.

After getting down to 1600 she finally handed me the record a from 1601 to 1612, when my heart began to beat rather lively—my hand became nervous, and I could hardly hold the book—but her hand was turned and she did not discover it.

I then began to examine the baptisms, and soon said to her: "Mrs. Nunn, as it will probably require some time to overhaul these books, I will not detain you."

THE NUNN RATHER LIKES IT AND HE AGAIN RECOM-MENCES.

As I anticipated, she evidently liked this and returned to the floors below, in the more domestic departments of the rectoral mansion. I sit the same time accompanying her as far as the hall on the first floor, where, at a marble table, and much excited, I seated myself for my researches after the infantile baptism of a man who had sworn when he became Police Justice, and subsequently Chief of Police, that he was a citizen of the United States; and before the Special Police Investigating Committee, (Aldermen Christy, Voorhis and Wakeman being present as spectators and saw him kiss the Bible, they having come to No. 6 City Hall to hold a session of their Committee respecting Commissioner Furey and the Eighty-third-street affair,) that the only evidence he had of his birth place was, that his mother told him he was born in America; that his name was George Washington Matsell; that he did not know where his father resided before he came to America; that he was born in 1811, &c.

HE ARRIVES AT THE CONCLUSION THAT CHIEF MATSELL IS A BAMBOOZLER.

A man whom I had long believed was a perjured alien, and had bamboozled the Americans towards a quarter of a century, who had always in his high official position sympathized with foreigners to the exclusion of Americans, whose sacred rights he had long trampled in the dust; who had, in fact, been the Mayor and Chief of Police under Woodhull, Kingsland and Westervelt and others, who preceded Woodhull; and who had illegally ruled the City of New-York like a British despot for a long term of years, and did so now.

HE MAKES BREATH AND OGLES AT THE CHIEF AGAIN.

Who was always leagued with a gang of villains; who had often evinced the coward in the discharge of his official duties, and through whose corrupt connection with the primary and legal elections, through his hordes of Police subordinates, was to be ascribed every evil under which the City of New-York groans, and is made to bite the dust.

SOMETHING WHIRLS IN HIS HEAD.

With these exciting facts whirling through my brain I began the search, and turned the leaves of the Brandon Register until I came to the baptisms of 1611.

THE GREAT SECRET IS DISCOVERED BY CLEARING EYES.

When running my glazing eyes down the third page I discovered the following: "George, son of George Matsell and Elizabeth, his wife, was baptised privately Oct. 10, and received Dec. 30."

CAN'T DESCRIBE HIS FEELINGS, BUT MAKES AN EXCLAMATION AND SUBSIDES INTO A COLD SWEAT.

If a supernatural being were wielding my pen at this point my feelings might possibly be described, and yet I think not. I remember a sudden realization in my chair and some such exclamation as, "Good God, is it possible?" and I also clearly remember the cold sweat as it rolled down my brow and cheek into my mouth, as if I had just emerged from a house on fire. After wiping my face again and again, I arose, paced the hall some minutes, and finally walked to the beautiful lawn in front of the rectoral mansion, where, amid some noble forest trees, and the exhilarating air, my blood resumed its wonted circulation. I then returned to the mansion and began my search for Augustus and Elizabeth Matsell, which I found in another book under the baptisms of 1613 and 1617, both of which will be found below precisely as they are recorded in the Brandon Parish books. And thus was confirmed every word in the memorable affidavit of Lettice Milligan, of Geneva, New-York.

RECOVERING SOMEWHAT, HE GAZES AT THE MOON FROM A PRIVATE WINDOW.

After taking copies of the baptismal records, I called Mrs. Nunn and told her that she could replace the books in the iron chest, which she did; and, after giving, at the request of Mrs. Nunn, from the second story window of the splendid edifice, of the extraordinary beauties of the surrounding country, I returned for Brandon purposes some two miles distant, telling Mrs. Nunn that I would return at 6 P. M., with Mr. Farrow, the Parish Clerk.

HE SCALES THE PRISON AND ESCAPES.

Soon after passing through the rectoral mansion gate into the Brandon road, I noticed a man coming towards me, who, the instant of a meeting, sang, "With little children sleeping in their cribs" and "mourning," "Oh, not the above." "Ah! Oh! Oh! see the Moon!" whereupon I paused and commenced chasing the moon for some minutes, and then departed for Brandon, which, the first man I met there, I found was having sent the sale of Old Bailey many months previous. I met the gentleman the second time, and passed on, and, after a long walk, I found myself in the Brandon Parish Church, where I found Mr. Farrow, the Parish Clerk, and Mr. Clark, the Postmaster of Brandon, and, after a long chat, I found myself in the Brandon Post-Office, where I found Mr. Clark, the Postmaster

NEW-YORK CITY.

[illegible]

[illegible] Sunday being the first Sabbath since the Church and congregation, under the pastorate of the late Dr. Cheever, had for public worship since their bereavement, [illegible] Rev. Mr. DUNCAN of Camden, N. J.

☞ The City Tax books are now opened for payment. If you pay up handsomely, and so make the best of a bad bargain, before the 1st of November, it will be all the easier on the pocket, for there is a penalty to be added after that.

☞ The mercantile Library Association is now receiving applications for the Free Scholarships in the gift of that Association in the University and Columbia College.

☞ Rev. E. M. Dunn and wife, and a young companion, have left the City for missionary labors in Sangora. Gen. TAUSSAINT gave them a free passage across the ocean.

☞ Flour and grain are coming in in large quantities over the Erie Railroad. The long pier at the foot of Dey-street, at which the barges are entered, has been plied every morning.

Criminal Courts.

SECOND DAY OF GENERAL SESSIONS—MONDAY, Sept. 3.

[illegible] term of the Court of General Sessions was opened to-day, his Honor Recorder [illegible]

[illegible] of the gentlemen who had been summoned as jurors on the Grand Jury were called over, a sufficient number of excuses made, and generally with exceptions of all the persons summoned, until [illegible]

The Petit Jury roll was in like manner called over—the Recorder indulged with an array of applicants on the ground of judicial responsibility, and a vast number of [illegible] allowed.

Supreme Court—Special.

Judge CLERKE will call the Special Motion Calendar on Saturday, the 8th inst., at 11 o'clock. No other day will be [illegible] up for the month. All [illegible] and notice to show cause will be held at chambers every day, commencing at the above mentioned hour. No notice and motions will be attended to every day at 10 o'clock.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Sept. 4, 1855.

Before Judge Betts.

This was the first day of the September Term of this Court. A Grand and Petit Jury had been summoned for this Court, but not enough did not answer to fully impanel both Grand and Petit Jurors, the which they now stand discharged to be summoned, for which day we know not. Some few unimportant matters of that sort were [illegible] up, but nothing of importance was done, and the business of the Court went over till Tuesday next.

NEW-YORK SUPERIOR COURT.

SPECIAL TERM.—Kings County.—TUESDAY, Sept. 4.

Before Judge Rockwell.

SALARY OF THE CITY JUDGE.

In the matter of the application of E. D. Culver for a writ of Mandamus to James M. Cornell, Treasurer of the County of Kings, to pay a salary claimed by him as City Judge of Brooklyn. The motion came up for argument on Saturday, Mr. M. Van Cott appearing for the Treasurer, Judge Culver and Mr. J. A. Lott for the relator.

The salary claimed is for one quarter, from the 1st day of the 1st August last, and the affidavits in support and opposition are our 12 folio, which are briefly as follows: Mr. Culver deposes that he obtained a majority of the votes cast according to law at the last election, and then he has performed the duties of the office, and he now claims the same, either by election or appointment.

The Treasurer on the other hand, says that the Board of Supervisors declared the election of Mr. Jackson, Mr. Cornell's opponent, and that he has no proof to the contrary; and that he has no proof, moreover, Mr. Culver's certificate and oath, and moreover that he has been informed by the Board of Supervisors not to pay it. It may be remembered that a number of ballots cast for "E. D. Culver," instead of Erastus D. Culver, were rejected by the Board of Canvassers; and that these votes would have had a majority. Mr. J., however, declined to accept under the circumstances, and Mr. Culver took up the gauntlet and his cause.

Mr. Cornell, for the opposition, cited a number of authorities to show that where ballots had been cast as aforesaid, and rejected, then the honor of the contest came to the hand with a bold.

Judge Rockwell, being sworn, gave testimony to the effect that he was Mr. Spencer—During this transaction he had his office assaulted, 3 severe blow on the head with his cane; does not know whether he knocked the assailant down.

The Recorder said—there is a case where a gentleman entered, without means of provocation, into a man's house, and, being assaulted, rather than a furious blow on the head with a club, the house owner, if he knew another in the community of a robber, he would have had the right to do so. Not so in such case, but he must fly, and if he could not, then he could shoot the intruder.

The Recorder said if he did so, he would be guilty of a crime, and be punished for it.

The Recorder said he did so, he would be guilty of a crime, and be punished for it.

The Recorder said if

NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 5.

IN THIS ISSUE.

[illegible]

SAYMOUR, HARPER & CO.

☞ THE NEW-YORK DAILY TIMES is served in the City to Subscribers [illegible] Twenty Cents a week. Single Copies Two Cents. Mail Subscribers [illegible] Dollars a year.

The SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES, consisting of the [illegible] of the Daily, published Tuesday and Friday morning, [illegible] Dollars a year.

The WEEKLY TIMES, published Saturday, is mailed [illegible] a year for single Copies. Twenty-Five Copies for Twenty Dollars, to one address.

The TIMES FOR CALIFORNIA is published on the afternoon of every Mail steamer. Price, in wrappers, [illegible] cents a copy.

The Daily Times has a regular circulation of over [illegible], and is a medium for business and general advertising. [illegible] by any City paper.

[illegible] Office, No. 128 Nassau-street, corner of [illegible]

Our Times for California.

The Times for CALIFORNIA will be issued [illegible] in ample season for the departure of the Steamship George Law. It will contain a comprehensive Summary of Domestic and Foreign Intelligence, down to the sailing of the last steamer; Editorial Articles on current topics; News Items of interest from all parts of the United States; full Market Quotations, Reports of Public Meetings, Speeches, Books, &c. Price, in wrappers, [illegible] cents per copy. Agents will please send in their orders as early as possible.

Political News.

Great uncertainty prevails as to the present status of any of the various political parties of the day. The two factions of Democracy and the Know-Nothings, have either defined their positions or so dodged the issue that, are paramount as to demonstrate clearly enough the principles they would openly avow, if they dared to.

But the great Conservative Whig party,—that party which dates from hoar antiquity, and which Ex-Governor Hunt, imitating Mr. Webster's touching fidelity to conjugal duty in a parallel instance, declares he never, either, never will desert,—still rests under a cloud. No speech has yet arisen to provoke its wrath. The astute Ex-Governor is either not astute enough to say what its principles are, or else he is too astute to venture upon such a statement. The live Whig party,—that party which keeps up with the times and constitutes itself the representative of living interests and principles, rather than the mourner and undertaker for dead measures and men,—holds its old position on the principal issue of the day,—that of hostility to the aggressions of Slavery and of resistance to the extension of Slavery into territory now free.

The Express, which is an official and doubtless a reliable exponent of the other Whig party, thus sets forth its creed on this same point:

"The doctrine of the Northern Conservative Whigs is briefly this—that the territory of our neighbors is not to be plundered, stolen or paid for out of the Federal Treasury; but if two thirds of the Senate will make a treaty therefor, and a majority of the House of Representatives agree to every such a treaty out by the necessary laws or appropriations, then the fifteen Southern States have as much right to the employment of it as the sixteen Northern States. We are against 'wars' and 'robbery,' but if our country will steal, let thieves share among thieves, and an equal division of the spoil, we say."

This is a little cloudy, but its meaning is sufficiently clear. This Conservative Whig party is not in favor of having any more territory; but if we do have more, Slavery must be planted in at least half of it. The Express is reasonably good authority; but we should like to see those it speaks for put that plank in their platform. Perhaps they will—and perhaps they won't.

Mayor Wood's Special Message—The Public Works.

While we have never allowed ourselves to be swept away by the tide of popular applause which hailed Mr. Wood's accession to the Mayoralty,—and which was almost as overwhelming as the opprobrium which assailed him before his election,—we have endeavored always to give him full credit for the ability, energy and courage he has shown in his administration of public affairs. We do not, by any means, endorse all his acts,—many of which have been of doubtful expediency, and others of still more doubtful propriety. We do not understand writing messages,—and one of the best he ever wrote was the one sent in to the Common Council on Monday night, and published in the TIMES of yesterday. In this document the Mayor feels called upon, to rebuke the Common Council with their short sittings, their disregard of his former suggestions, their neglect of the public interest, and their scandalous waste of the public money: and he does it in a manner which reminds to mind the famous address of Cromwell to the Long Parliament. Unhappily for the public good, the "one man power" which Mayor Wood threatens the Common Council he will exercise, if they do not pay more attention to their duties than they have done, is not sufficiently comprehensive to enable him to turn the whole pack of unfaithful servants into the street and put better ones in their places. We must bide our time, and they must be permitted to serve out theirs, to their own disgrace and the City's injury.

The Mayor makes an enumeration of no less than twenty different subjects, all of which are of great importance to the welfare of the City, which demand the instant attention of the Common Council, but which they have shamefully neglected, to attend to the promotion of their own personal interests. It would be difficult to say which of these is most of the greater importance, and as there is not the least probability of the present Common Council attending to the whole of them, the better way would be to take up one at a time, and when that has been disposed of to attend to another. The first on the list, perhaps the most important of all, is the Water of the Finances. But by no means the least important of the subjects to which the Mayor calls the attention of the Common Council is that of the docks and wharves. He is the first Mayor, since the time of ABNER GLANZ, who has manifested a just appreciation of the immense importance to our City of proper accommodations for the shipping interest, the interest on which our entire prosperity and commercial preeminence depend. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, there were two petitions from merchants, praying for accommodations for their ships. Instead of pains being taken to afford proper accommodations to the shipping interest, and to invite commerce to our port, the very opposite course has been pursued, and a large amount of business has been driven away for the lack of wharf-room where ships could unload their cargoes. The Cunard steamships were compelled to go over to Jersey City, and Brooklyn is building herself up out of the shipping business which is driven over there for lack of proper accommodations on this side of the river. Our wharves and steamboat landings are in a wretchedly dilapidated condition, and no effort is made to improve the docks so that they can accommodate the rapid increase of our commerce. It is greatly to the credit of Mayor WOOD that he has had the sagacity to see the deficiences of the City in this respect, and has endeavored to impress upon the Common Council the necessity of devising some remedies for them. But it would be hoping against all our experiences to look for any improvement from the present Common Council; and the only hope we can have is in the infusion of new men which must take place at the election in next November, for we cannot believe that any of the members of the present Government will be reelected, who have shown such an utter disregard of the interests which were committed to their charge.

Our Public Servants.

"We men are a little breed," says TENNYSON in his new poem of Maud; and if there be truth in the reverse of the old saying, "like master like man,"—if the masters are to be judged by the "men" in New-York,—we must be content to be called a little breed. The people are the masters, and they choose little men to attend to their public affairs, or at least men who are not great in any good sense; though, in the sense in which JONATHAN WILD was called the Great, they have undoubtedly considerable claims to the appellation. Men have been put into offices here of immense importance to the public welfare, whose salaries are but $2,000, who retire from their posts, after holding them two years, independently rich. The taxes are nearly doubled, the public interests are neglected, the people grumble, peculators and jobbers are denounced, and then we all rush off to the polls and exercise the glorious privilege of freemen to elect rogues and imbeciles to conduct our public affairs, whom we would not employ in any private capacity. It is as rare to find the right man in the right place in our Municipal Government as it appears to be in England, where men receive their appointments on the ground of their family connections. It is idle to talk about reform in the administration of our City affairs, unless the people will make use of some discrimination in choosing their officers, and give the preference to men of capacity and integrity over untried candidates, whose antecedents are not of a promising character. If nominating committees will compromise the parties in whose name they act by nominating improper men, they should be made to feel the consequences of their lack of principle. The people themselves are to blame for giving their votes blindly to men of whom they know nothing, merely because they have been nominated under the name of a particular party. The successful peculations of certain City officials have made such offices as that of Street Commissioner peculiarly desirable to a class of gentlemen who are more anxious to better their own condition than to promote the public welfare; and the struggle for nominations has never before been so great in New-York as it is this Fall. The people have been amply forewarned by the experiences of the past few years,—they know the result of electing incompetent and venal men to office, and if they will continue to place such persons in posts where the opportunities for peculation are great, and where bribery and corruption have been the rule, they must quietly submit to the consequences.

The Plague of Mosquitoes.

The Crimean correspondent of the London Times says that the army before Sebastopol suffers more from the torments of the flies than from the shot of the Russians, and we can easily believe that such may be the case. There are few things harder to bear in a philosophic spirit than the bite of a mosquito, and it is mortifying to human pride to reflect that while man is, in a great measure, master of his opportunities, and capable of wielding the lightning, controlling the winds, leveling mountains and turning rivers from their courses, he has not yet been able to invent any means for subjugating mosquitoes. Those pestiferous little creatures continue to be the torment of our Summer lives, and we can have no more effect upon them than the Allies have had upon the Malakoff Tower. They irritate us by dressing their dismal songs in our ears, and then sting us to madness while they thrust their long bills into our veins and suck out our blood. We should have been delighted if some of the grave sciens at the late meeting of the American Association for the Promotion of Science, in Providence, had taken the mosquitoes in hand, and proposed some measures either for their extermination, or for neutralizing their poison.

But Science is dumb and helpless before a mosquito, and even Yankee ingenuity and ingenuity are powerless before these little wretches. PLINY says that Nature is greatest in her smallest works, and it may be said so of the mosquitoes with great truth, for these little creatures are, magnificently, the greatest pests of life. If the immortal founder of the celebrated Bridgewater Treatises had lived in a mosquito country, we have no doubt that he would have devoted one of his prizes to an essay on the best means of exterminating mosquitoes. They are not so troublesome in New-York this year as they have sometimes been, but in the country they seem to be unusually abundant and vengeanous.

A New Secret Party.

The secret which will be found in another column, of the newest of the new secret political organizations of the day, will be read with interest. It seems that certain leading members of the Know-Nothing Order are practicing on their associates the tricks they learned from them, and seek to break them down just as together they have striven hitherto to break down other political parties.

"The Templars" was the name given to this new organization. Professing to belong to the American Order, its object was to control it,—to shape its policy, dictate its measures, and designate its candidates. It has succeeded very well in all these efforts thus far, as most of the professed Know-Nothing nominations are, in fact, the selections of the Templars.

Their Ritual, which we publish in full, sets forth their principles. Members are compelled to swear strict obedience to the majority, at all hazards, under all circumstances, and as against all other alliances and associations,—under penalty of death. They are to abjure Catholicism,—not to marry Catholics, nor hold any social intercourse, nor to trade with them, or in any way recognize them as fellow-citizens.

It is impossible to conceive anything more outrageously proscriptive than this creed. It is of the very essence of the malignant bigotry which burnt heretics at the stake and taught theology by the rack and the thumb-screw. If there was ever any hope that the Know-Nothing movement might lay aside its fanaticism and intolerance, it must disappear now that the Order is coming under the control of a new cabal tenfold worse than the first.

Turned Up!

The BRIGGS Investigating Committee is again at work. Chief of Police MAYNELL has been found out at last. The inevitable and indefatigable BRANCH has got back from Europe, and has sent in to the Committee a full report of his Voyage and Discoveries. He has found out where Mr. MATSELL came from. He tells us where he went to school, and where he used to go to hoist [query, is this cockney for 'eat'] his father's goose. He has found men, who know women, who know all about it when he was born. He has explored Parish Registers,—measured school-rooms,—ransacked tailors' shops, and rummaged England generally in search of Mr. MATSELL's birth-place; and his report, which we print at length in another part of this morning's TIMES, gives the result of these, his wanderings to and fro upon the face of the land and the sea.

BRANCH's travels are among the most entertaining productions of modern literature. He always sees more than anybody else can, and he always tells all he sees, at least. On the Isthmus of Panama he discovered alligators and other small deer unheard of before or since. In England he found things equally noticeable and equally strange.

All lovers of light literature,—whether they care anything about Mr. MATSELL's birthplace or not, should read BRANCH's history of his adventures in search of it. Our private opinion is that the Chief is dished. He is proved to have been born, and probably in England. He had better resign; if not his office, at least himself to his fate.

How to Prevent Accidents at Ferries.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

SIR: Some time ago there were a great variety of suggestions in the Daily papers as to the best mode of preventing these constantly recurring accidents at our Ferries. Now, Sir, might I suggest the simplest and readiest mode of all—that is, when the chains of the boat are let go, let the ferry men close the passenger gate in the same way they close the carriage way; no communication would then be between the boat and the street, and I think I may safely say, no accidents would arise from passengers insanely jumping on the boat after it is unmoored.

Yours respectfully, A. C.

There has never been any lack of suggestions on this subject,—nor is there the slightest difficulty in preventing such accidents as are now of constant occurrence on our ferry boats. A chain drawn across the end of the pier would prevent people jumping from the boat; and the simple expedient proposed above would render impossible such rash and reckless jumping after a boat, as so often leads to fatal results.

The whole fault lies with the Ferry Company, who, from a pitiful parsimony, or an equally culpable indifference, will not take any of the precautions necessary to secure safety in crossing on their boats.

Yellow Fever.

It has been suggested that, for the sake of still greater security against the importation of yellow fever from Southern ports, vessels should be quarantined which come from the vicinity of the infected ports, as well as from those ports themselves. At present vessels may touch at the infected places,—or after leaving them may touch at others,—and enter New-York without any detention or examination at quarantine. In this way our whole quarantine regulations, which are effective so far as they are carried out thoroughly, may be rendered completely nugatory. This matter deserves the early attention of the Board of Health.

Central Park.

We hear it rumored that movements are already on foot towards securing from the next Legislature a curtailment of the dimensions of the Central Park,—and possibly towards entering another to be laid out on the other side of the town. Candidates for the Assembly, it is said, have been selected with reference to this question. The subject is one of decided importance to the City, so whatever is done, about it should be done openly and by a proper appeal to the public. It is not a question to be decided by the slaves and interests of property holders alone.

☞ The people of Vermont held their State election yesterday, and gave a handsome majority for the Republican ticket, headed by Hon. STEPHEN REMEN, the present Governor of the State.

RACHEL'S FIRST NIGHT.

How the Queen of Comedy Received the Queen of Tragedy.

It was a drizzly, greasy night; a sloppy, misty, stay-at-home sort of a night, when New-York, very serious, went to the Metropolitan Theatre. New-York had a part to play, for the greatest tragedienne of this or any other age, was about to astonish America in French. Now New-York did not know a word of French, but nevertheless was bound to come out of the drizzly, boisterous night. Therefore, New-York did very serious when she went to the Metropolitan Theatre. "I wish this RACHEL was a singer," thought New-York—"I can turn a tune; or if she were a dancer, I can understand that in French or Spanish; but I'm afraid this long-winded tragedy is beyond my depth, and if I'm caught applauding in the wrong place——! Oh!

Thus revolving many things within herself, as VIRGIL says, New-York arrived at the Theatre and hired an opera-glass to keep her in countenance, seated herself and pulled out her book of "Horatius," French on one side, English on the other, guaranteed by M. RACHEL FELIX to be the real true and genuine CORNEILLE in the original package. When New-York looked around and beheld that gorgeous Theatre filled to the dome with all the genius and beauty, all the wealth and enterprise of America, she took heart, a smile of pride decorated her lips, and a glow of satisfaction showed through her rouge. BANCROFT, Longfellow, Curtis and Bryant; HORACE Greeley, Ripley, Dana, Bigelow, and N. P. Willis; Edwin Forrest, Julia Dean, Bourcicault and Agnes Robertson; literature and art, poets, historians, dramatists, actors, all "fine minds," as Mrs. LUCY STONE has it—there they were amidst the beauty. The Genius and Beauty hadn't books; the Wealth and Enterprise had.

Hush! the curtain rises. New-York feels a little frightened—opens go all the books. First scene—between Julia and Sabina. Julia is a little girl in a riding habit, and Sabina, it appears, is a young gentleman in a white cravat and a black dress coat. Books are examined—the dialogue doesn't fit the book somehow—the playbills are looked at. Oh! the first piece is "Les Droits de l'Homme." New-York secretly shows the book of "Horatius." Having no English for this piece, she listens with exemplary patience for one hour and a half to this prelude, and quietly thinks it a bore. Brave! We have hopes that she will come out right yet. It was a bore.

But the denouement was capitally contrived; it was the shot of a pistol. It woke up HORACE GREELEY, who had taken forty winks, and he rose like a lion refreshed. The first piece was "The Rights of Man." The Tribune paid no attention to it—had it been "Women's Rights," it might have claimed one of the forty winks afterwards.

At last the curtain rises upon the tragedy, the hum of voices is hushed, and the books are opened at the right place this time. The stillness of expectation fixes the audience, and even those that had colds were too much engaged to cough. Do not smile, reader, that little fact is the sure sign of intense interest throughout an audience. Julia and Sabina bewail the fate of Rome, and the woes which the war with Alba has inflicted upon them. But what is this? A statue moves upon the stage—a tall robed form in marble vestments, has glided in and stands in noble profile—immovably. Is it the Hermione of Phidias? Does it breathe? Has it life? What is it?

A thunder of applause rolls through the building—still the figure stirs not—another and another, until it moves—called to life, as it were, by that burst of admiration, the statue turns, faces the audience, advances and bends its head. Oh! Masterpiece of nature, it is Camille—it is RACHEL.

Low as a dove's coo, but deep as distant thunder, her voice glides over the words and makes them sweet. Gluksen rom ende, as HOMER said when we were at school; her words were dropping honey!

New-York returned to her book. Oh, Nora! we beg pardon, but when we think of RACHEL we are struck classic. Yes, New-York returned to her book. On rolled that noble river of words from the actress, when suddenly, whish-whish-tish-slish, over went 2,500 leaves all at once, for New-York had got to the bottom of the page. RACHEL threw a quiet glance over the parquette, and detecting the cause of the sound, a shadowy smile swept across her mouth, as she prepared for the combat. It seemed to say, "Here is a new triumph to be achieved. Those people do not understand the words I utter. Their eyes are fixed on their books. Can I compel them to understand me? Have I a power above the mean limits of language? Can I speak in tones, in looks, in posture, the poetry of suffering, and overleap the barrier between my soul and theirs? Yes. They shall weep with my eyes, tremble with my frame, and quail with my heart. They shall cast aside the book and they shall listen to me, look at me, and understand me."

It was a noble effort. It was a glorious task!

During the first act New-York, who had flinched from the ridiculous rustle of the leaves, behaved cautiously. Not much applause. Judicious silence.

During the second act RACHEL tried her first struggle with the books—it was a flash, she raised up the fates, lost them again, another flash, caught a few, who fell off presently. First round. The books had it.

The third act began. The coming thunder began to swell RACHEL's form and lower upon her brow. Distant lightnings gleamed faintly in her eyes. When, crash! it came down, and every face rose up—on went the Pythoness mad with the sacred fire, her gaze fascinates her audience, and New-York forgets New-York—books fall unheeded. Enough! she turns away with victory in her eye.

When she entered in the fourth act the books had crept in, but now RACHEL is mistress of all she surveys. It was a great moment. She hears the description of her lover's death. The story is addressed to her father's ear, but Camille, standing apart, overhears the tale of blood. At first it seems that her lover would escape. She trembles in every fibre. As the account proceeds, her eyes gape with horror, her lips grow white, and, with a paralytic motion, reveal a quivering and livid smile. Torture never wrung from the heart of a martyr a more agonizing wail than hers, when she hears that her brother's sword has taken her lover's life.

Oh, New-York! much shall be forgiven thee for the genial burst of admiration thou didst utter. It was a noble sound. It was the cheer of triumph. The books were torn up.

At this moment, when RACHEL lay swooning in her chair, a lady in the parquette threw her a bouquet. That bouquet came from the Wealth and Enterprise. The Genius and Beauty had nothing to do with it. Wealth and Enterprise expected RACHEL to get up, raise the bouquet, of course, with a smile, courtesy her thanks, and swoon off again. Seeing she did not, one of the French actors on the stage raised the floral tribute, and went over and offered it to her. "No! No! No!" burst in low, reproachful tones from New-York. New-York felt the ridicule and the outrage. The French actor, the accomplice of the books, laid down the bouquet and looked very red.

From this moment the torrent, the tempest and whirlwind of the outraged and loving girl thundered in every line. She lashed a young Juno who had stolen the bolts of Jupiter and hurled them with godlike wrath upon her foes. In the midst, the death blow falls upon her. And then she did not die as most tragedians do, like a stuck pig, running about for ten minutes with a knife in them, reviving in throes to give a last kick—panting, rolling, scrambling, and eventually rolling over like a sack of potatoes. She died as CÆSAR died. She added her mantle about her form, and casting one look of reproach upon her murderer, she sank to the earth a corpse.

Such was the scene at the Metropolitan Theatre on Monday night. Fired with a fine enthusiasm, New-York confessed that for the first time Tragedy, in its sublimest perfection, had filled the Temple of the Drama in America.

On the month of March, 1841, RACHEL made her first appearance in London. She played the same tragedy, the Queen, Her Majesty's Theatre, was well filled; she came again and again, and after a four performances retired to Paris. London and New-York do not always agree.

Above Reproach's Counsel's appearance.

The Metropolitan Theatre, last night, was crowded to nearly packed house. The attraction for night, at the Metropolitan Theatre, although well-known and celebrated, is a foreign price of every, and was upon the occasion. The tragedy, Racine's "Phèdre" is a more attractive work than Corneille's "Horatius," and better deserving of the appearance of a critical audience. But we fear certainly will have to determine the success of M'lle RACHEL. People will go merely that they may say they have seen the great tragedienne, and we fear one will suffer for the more intellectual regale of their curiosity. We shall see. The national taste of New-York has recently got powered from the Springs. What we have said may do injustice to that taste.

The tragedy of "Phèdre" possesses an advantage over some of the productions of the French school. Its style is chaste, and the language, although occasionally stilted and bombastic, is generally poetic and intense. The cracking Alexandrine verse of the French tragic writers does not, however, fill more prominently on the unaccustomed ear in this than in the language of CORNEILLE. It is a kind of vocal-organ music that grows very wearisome. One cannot realize the necessity of eternally talking in couplets, and it seems strange that the heroes and heroines should speak in precisely the same manner on the burning; with the same fulness and ease to her words and the same unchanging position to call a tooth anything in the world but a tooth, and a nail whatever you like but a nail. Of course you get used to this sort of thing in process of time. There are few things in life which you cannot get accustomed to. The most critical audience in the world was assembled a few years ago to see the heroes of their tragic muse decked out in powder and Court suits. How immensely impressive our old friend Thespis must have been in the gorgeous and graceful costumes of James Vallerstrich, Esq.

RACHEL enjoys a greater popularity than CORNEILLE and with justice. He possesses that fundamental requisite of a true poet—the power of depicting ordinary emotions in a tender and pathetic manner. She is the deficient in the heroic fervor which should surely belong to a writer of tragedy, but with great good taste and moderation he uses those strong and definitive passions of the human breast. CORNEILLE, on the other hand, revelled in the stern and uncompromising Hamlons of the Roman fool. RACINE is peculiarly happy in depicting the varied emotions and inconsistencies of a mind preoccupied by the tender passion. He speaks the language of love with fluency, and can make himself understood by all who have a responsive heart. Like all true poets, who revel on the road that never did run smooth, difficulties only made him "come out stronger." Attempts to stifle the passion that consumes him and he burns more fiercely than ever. With such a natural tendency it was not difficult to find subjects, particularly in ancient fable, where illicit love is not uncommon. In the present instance he has stepped upon the story of "Phèdre," and bent it to his will in a way that is nearly unexceptionable. When we consider the very strong ingredients of which this play is composed, we can scarcely restrain our wonder that the hand of genius has moulded it into a form so little repulsive. But it was here that RACINE excelled; he improved everything he touched, or avoided what was not susceptible of this improvement.

A very slight sketch of the plot of the "Phèdre" will be sufficient to refresh the memory of our readers. Phèdre, wife of Thesée, King of Athens, indulges a criminal regard for the son of her husband, Hippolitus, the object of this unhappy passion, is himself in love with the Princess Aricie, but despairs of expressing that love in consequence of an unhappy feud between her father's house and his own. At the opening of the play Hippolitus is about going forth to seek his father, who has been absent some six months, and concerning whose safety there are reasonable doubts. Immediately afterwards news is brought that Thesée is dead. Phèdre, who up to this time has allowed her secret to consume her in silence, is now induced by her confidant to make known her passion to Hippolitus. The latter is of course horrified at the disclosure, and tries to hurry from the unnatural presence of his mother-in-law, after having upbraided her and assured her that there was yet a hope that Thesée might be alive. Bring to the mind by his reproaches, and writhing under the torture of a love which she knows to be wrong but cannot suppress, Phèdre beseeches her son-in-law to kill her with his sword. Not complying with this reasonable request, she snatches the weapon from her son's thigh, and is about turning it on herself when Œnone, (the confidant before referred to,) interposes. At this awkward juncture Thesée turns up, escaped from a year's captivity. Phèdre now finds herself haunted before Hippolitus, and cowed before the divine eyes of her lord and master. She is in constant fear that the secret of her passion will be divulged. In this emergency the confidant makes herself useful. She instigates Phèdre to turn the tables on Hippolitus, by accusing him of a great design on her virtue. Thesée is horror-stricken and enraged at the enormity of his son's offence. He banishes him from his roof, and implores the gods to pursue him with their divine vengeance. Hippolitus protests his innocence, but is too manly to accuse his mother of incest. He goes into exile, and soon afterwards furnishes a hasty meal for a lively dragon, who swallows him at a mouthful. He is soon afterwards avenged. Retributive justice overtakes his guilty accusers. Œnone, the confidant, represented by Phèdre, satisfies her conscience by jumping into the sea, and remaining at the bottom. Phèdre, overcome by remorse, takes poison, confesses her treachery to Thesée, and dies.

The peculiarity of M'lle RACHEL's interpretation of the character of the heroine seems to us to lie in the very lurid distinction she makes between an involuntary passion which she knows to be wrong, and under which she is willing to be crushed; between this and the criminal passion which she climbs in an infamous accusation against her own son. Nothing can be more pathetic than her lamentation in the first act, beginning "Mon mal vient de plus loin," in which she describes her first interview with Hippolitus. We perceive that from that moment her lost soul is in trouble. She appeals to the gods for succor; she presses the dreadful image from her sight; she avoids the cause of her unhappiness, persecutes him, affects the acrimony of an unjust mother-in-law. But all in vain. The unhappy passion fills her soul with maddening intensity. She exclaims:

"Un n'est plus une ardeur dans mes veines cachée; C'est Venus toute entière à sa proie attachée," and would die wrapt in the consciousness that she loves "not wisely but too well." The marvelous sensation created by Mdlle. RACHEL in this narrative can scarcely be described. You are profoundly impressed with a consciousness that she is not corrupt and vile, but that she is the victim of a dreadful emotion which she cannot repress. There is no ray of hope breaking through her gloomy sorrow; no kindly promise of a brighter picture to lift her from her attitude of grief. She must suffer and perish. When the news of Thesée death is made known, we see the end, and then lighted with a momentary glow of relief. She is less a sinner than she was before, and may even tell her love—it will be but indiscretion. With what exacting passion she reproaches Hippolitus with coldness in the lines, until recalled to herself by the consciousness within her, she humbly confesses she abhors herself more than he can detest her for what she has said.

"Ah! cruel, tu m'as trop entendue,"

The wonderful manner in which this phase of the character is preserved by Mlle. RACHEL, speaks volumes for the study bestowed on it. Instead of exciting our detestation, it provokes our pity,—nor is the second phase of the character less remarkable. We still sympathize with the unhappy heroine. She has been led astray by the false counsels of her confidants, and has beauty succeed an innocent youth of a heinous crime. For a moment she is contained in exile more hideous than before. But she rises superior to the situation; spurns the confidants from her feet, and thunders out that withering denunciation, "Ce n'est ainsi-je?" Then outward she is a martyr.

We have indicated in the above remarks the leading points of M'lle RACHEL's role, all of which were received with enthusiasm last night. One of the most genuine bursts of applause we have ever heard was elicited by the denunciation. The death scene in the last act was superbly managed; the effects of the fatal poison graduated with consummate truthfulness, and the final dissolution impressively and sublimely realized.

M'lle RACHEL was called out twice during the performance, and again after the fall of the curtain, receiving on each occasion the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

The Parodi Concert.

The PARODI Concert, for the benefit of the sufferers at Norfolk, yielded quite, not greater. The receipts for the house each night, the Philharmonic Society, the Musical Fund Society, and other charitable institutions, have contributed to J. T. Gerrish, Esq., Treasurer of the Relief Committee, who acknowledges the receipt of the money. Norfolk and New-York do not always agree.

[illegible]

ADVERTISEMENTS.

DESHLER'S FEVER AND AGUE PILLS THE MOST EFFECTIVE, SAFEST, AND ONLY RADICAL CURE FOR FEVER AND AGUE.

Sold by C. D. DESHLER, Agent, at the Depot, No. 48 Broadway, New-York, and by all responsible Druggists.

SUTTLES' EMPORIUM.

SPARROW GRASS, SUTTLES' AND TOM.

LEARY & CO.'S FALL FASHION.—THE NEW [illegible] THIS DAY, Sept. 5, [illegible] Our customers and the public generally will be particularly pleased with the style and [illegible] Hats. N. B.—We offer different grades of [illegible] at different prices.

LEARY & CO., Astor House.

IMPORTANT NEWS. VALUE OF RICHLY IMPROVED WILDERS HALL, HARDER HAVEN.

A fine site of the 24 [illegible] building erected by Mr. [illegible] the Gen WOOD in the City, was a gift of [illegible] of Mr. Tiemann; and although [illegible] disturbed, and in the same day [illegible] blood flow, cannot a single dollar [illegible] owned by the dream generally [illegible] G. H. GARNEY, Agent.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 6, 1855.

I take pleasure in corroborating the [illegible] and will add that the [illegible] THOMAS.

Aug. 6, 1855.

A large assortment with [illegible] by the subscribers, who are the [illegible] Le Bella Lock, and only [illegible] by Dick's and Wilder's patents. SHEARS & [illegible] No. 128 Water-st., New-York.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS [illegible] all preparations now in use.

DEAR SIR: I feel bound [illegible] you for the benefit which [illegible] of your bottle of your [illegible] to be of all you represent [illegible] cannot fail to do the public [illegible] Very respectfully [illegible]

THE BITTERS ARE ALL THEY ARE [illegible]

DEAR SIR: I have used your [illegible] them all they are represented [illegible] recommend them to the public [illegible] Respectfully [illegible]

For sale by druggists and dealers [illegible] where.

DR. S. S. FITCH, AUTHOR OF THE ONLY [illegible] TERMS ON CREDIT, [illegible] Office, No. 714 Broadway, [illegible] who have failed to be benefited by other [illegible] Dr. F. will take great pleasure in [illegible] Virginia with the [illegible]

Our readers will see by an advertisement [illegible] Virginia will give the [illegible] at Niagara Falls. A band of music will [illegible]

A LL RIGHT.—We now [illegible] door of a Broadway [illegible] entitled "Rachel Problem." [illegible] have a Rachel-[illegible] with wine [illegible] the new era.

[illegible]

FEVER AND AGUE CURE!
OR, ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA!

[illegible] FEVER AND AGUE CURE!

[illegible] Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Bilious Fever, Typhoid Fever, Yellow Fever, Ship and Jail Fever, Chamber Sickness, Night Sweats, and all other forms of Fever, which have a common origin in MALARIA OR MIASMA.

[illegible]

THE NATURAL ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA,

[illegible]

GENERAL DESOLIDT AND NIGHT SWEATS,

[illegible]

PREVENTIVE.

[illegible]

HEGEMAN, CLARK & CO.,

[illegible]

Wholesale Depôt, No. 189 Broadway.

☞ Wet Vaults Effectually Remedied in Every Case—Without one single exception, with MOEN'S unrivalled "HYDRO-IMPERVIOUS CEMENT," as applied by him to Messrs. D. Devlin & Co.'s vaults, corner Broadway and Murray-st., and many others. Testimonials to [illegible] A. R. MOEN, No. 2 Pine-st.

☞ Redding's Russian Salve—25 cts. a Box.—A [illegible] Sold by all druggists in the United States. A. B. & D. SANDS, C. V. CLICKENER & CO., C. H. RING, New-York; WM. R. KIEBER, JOHN GILBERT & CO., Philadelphia, and REDDING & CO., Proprietors, Boston.

☞ Balm of Thousand Flowers—For beautifying the complexion and eradicating all tan, pimples or freckles [illegible] FERRIDGE & CO., Franklin square, New-York; for sale by C. H. RING, Broadway, and F. V. BUSHTON, No. 10 Astor House and No. 417 Broadway.

☞ Wilkins' Annular Gold coin holding, imparts and preserves the hair. Every thread presented to me by the inventor, Dr. ELLIOTT, the celebrated Oculist of New York, with permission to bring it before the public. Price 50 cents. Sold by DELLOG & CO., druggists generally, and M. WILKIN, No. 44 Maiden-lane.

☞ Unknown Industrial Home Association, No. 2.—The members are hereby notified to attend the meeting THIS EVENING, as the final report of the Committee will be submitted. By order of the Committee,
J. A. HANDSCHUCH, Secretary.

☞ The Only Effectual Exterminator, without danger or stench. HENRY R. FOSTER'S celebrated RAT COCKROACH, &c., EXTERMINATOR. Wholesale and retail depot, No. 308 Broadway, New-York, and T. R. CALLENDER, No. 68 South 3d-st., Philadelphia, Penn.

☞ Everett Club, Brooklyn.—A regular meeting of the EVERETT CLUB will be held at the Athenæum, on THURSDAY EVENING, Sept. 6. A full and punctual attendance is requested. S. T. K. PRIME, Secretary.

☞ The Steamer Alida has resumed her regular trips, and leaves Pier foot of Rutgers-st. EVERY AFTERNOON at 3½ o'clock, making her usual landings.

PERSONAL.

IF THE GENTLEMAN—(Acting as agent,) who [illegible] Printer's Office, No. 26 Ann-st., is reminded to the loss of a marble bust, [illegible] Broadway, will call again, the matter can probably be satisfactorily arranged.

MATRIMONIAL.

A GENTLEMAN AND HIS WIFE, [illegible] New-York City.

WANTED.

SITUATION WANTED—By a respectable Protestant young man, in a private family, or store; has two years' City references; will bear the strictest investigation as to character and sobriety; can be spared for a few days. Address Box No. 1,[illegible] Times Office.

SITUATIONS WANTED—By two Protestant girls. One would do housework for a small family; is used to nursing and sewing; and waiting, or chamber work and work in the washing. The other would act in the capacity of nurse, understand the nursery and accompany Pa[illegible] well-recommended girls, and are anxious to change their employers. Call, or address No. 16 Ann-st., Rear, Home.

SITUATION WANTED—By a young woman, as nurse and chambermaid. Has been accustomed to the care of children for the last three years. Is neat with her work, and understands her business. Can give most recommendations from her last place, where she has lived for the last three years. Inquire at No. 37 University-place, corner 12th-st., until engaged.

SITUATION WANTED—By a very capable, intelligent Scotch woman as lady's maid and seamstress; a family going South. Charleston or Augusta preferred. Can cut and fit children's clothing, and has no objection to take charge of some or more grown up children. The best of City references. Can be seen, until suited, at No. 73 8th-av., in the store.

SITUATION WANTED, AS PORTER—In a dry Goods, or wholesale grocery, or any kind of jobbing house, by a sober Protestant man, who is grateful to work. Will give good City references as regards honesty and sobriety. Any gentleman in want of help will find the subscriber a person worthy of notice. Any commands left at the office of this paper for J. A. N. will be promptly attended to.

SITUATIONS WANTED—This day, at WESLEY'S Select female office, No. 106 7th-av., near 23d-st., for a number of respectable and experienced Protestant girls, including two German and Scotch cooks, six chambermaids and waiters, eight nurses and seamstresses, and several girls for housework. Employers will not be disappointed by giving a call. A lady in attendance.

SITUATIONS WANTED—By two highly respectable young women, in City or country; one as cook, washer and ironer (all of which she can do in good style); the other desires a place as chambermaid and waiter, or nurse and seamstress; is a neat hand to do up fine clothes. Both are well recommended. Apply at No. 271 Bowery. Wages moderate.

SITUATION WANTED—By a Protestant widow lady, who is competent to assume the duties of Children's Maid. Is capable of taking care of a baby, from its infancy; also an excellent dressmaker. Best of references can be given at No. 49 Myrtle-av., or at No. 64 Pierrepont-st., Brooklyn, N. Y. Call for three days.

SITUATIONS WANTED—By two respectable girls. One as plain cook—a good baker and most excellent washer and ironer—or as chambermaid and waiter; has good City references; wages $6. The other is fit a competent nurse and waiter; has eighteen months' City reference; wages, $6. Call at No. 160 East 22d-st., second floor.

SITUATION WANTED—By a young girl, laundress, or would do chamber work and assist in the washing and ironing. Good city reference from her last place. Please call or address 403 2d-av., between 20th and 21st-sts., for two days.

SITUATION WANTED—By a respectable young woman, as chambermaid and waiteress; has no objection to general housework in a private family; best of City references can be given from her last place. Can be seen for two days at No. 88 Monroe-st., basement.

SITUATION WANTED—By a respectable English Woman, who is a professed cook, in a private family; has no objection to go in the country. The best of references will be given. Call at No. 160 Suffolk-st. for three days.

SITUATIONS WANTED—By two neat tidy girls of quick ability and pleasing address; one is English, is a first-rate cook and baker, a good washer and ironer; the other as chambermaid, and nurse, or plain sewing. Apply personally at No. 217 Bowery. City or country.

SITUATION WANTED—By three Protestant girls, who could serve in the capacity of nurse and seamstress, and the others as chambermaids and waiters. The best of City references given and good wages expected. Apply at No. 60 Wyckoff-st., Brooklyn, in the basement.

SITUATION WANTED—As chambermaid or waiter, or as chambermaid only, by a young woman of experience. Can give the best of reference. Can be seen for the present at No. 47 East Broadway.

SITUATION WANTED—By a respectable Protestant girl, as chambermaid, or to do plain sewing. No objection to children. Can be seen for two days, from 10 to 2 at No. 92 6th-st., near Perry. Good City reference.

SITUATION WANTED—By a young girl to do washing or chamber work, in a private family. Has lived in her last place five years. Can be seen at No 190 East 17th-st., first floor, in the room, between 1st-av. and Avenue A.

SITUATION WANTED—By a respectable young girl, as Chambermaid, and plain sewing or chamber work, washing and ironing; has lived six years in her last place. Can be seen for two days at No. 88 Hammersley-st.

SITUATIONS WANTED—By two respectable young Women, the one as cook, and the other as chambermaid and waiter. Can procure the best of City reference. Call at No 143½ Mulberry-st., first floor.

SITUATION WANTED—By a Protestant, as chambermaid. Apply at the residence of her present employer, No. 75 East 30th-st., on Wednesday and Thursday.

SERVANTS.—Female help of all kinds for City and Country, may be had at the office, No. 13 8th-av., one door from Bro.-st.; a large number of the first class are now waiting, well recommended from their last places; among whom are several Protestants; also young girls from 12 to 15 years old.

SERVANT WANTED—A girl who can come well recommended as cook, washer and ironer, and for general housework; one who is not afraid to work, and would like to live in the upper part of the City, may apply at No. 20 East 50th-st., between 4th and 5th-avs.

GARDENER AND WIFE WANTED—Without children; the wife as laundress and to take charge of dairy, or chambermaid and laundress; the gardener must be capable of taking charge of a green-house and vegetable garden; also understand the management of fruits. A Scotchman preferred. Inquire of J. E. TURNER, No. 14 Wooster-st., before 10 o'clock every morning.

HOUSEKEEPER'S SITUATION WANTED—By an American lady of the first respectability, well experienced in housekeeping, wishes the entire supervision of the domestic affairs of a gentleman's household; understands the care of children; would engage as companion to a lady; best of reference given and required. Address Miss ANNA, Broadway Post Office.

UNE DEMOISELLE FRANCAISE—Qui a recu une éducation supérieure, et qui a déjà enseigné avec succès, désire un fait des différentes méthodes qui sont en usage (les jeux de cinq années telle, dans un séminaire, ou sens une famille privée. Mademoiselle parle l'Anglais avec facilité, et peut même donner des leçons dans cette langue, aussi la piano et la peinture aux commençants. Les ouvrages de goût, de la tapisserie et broderie. References from clergymen and families of the highest standing. Address immediately post paid, MADEMOISELLE, No. 172 12th-st., corner of University-place, New-York. Has no objection to go South or West.

THE FRENCH LANGUAGE.—A French lady of much experience in teaching her native language, desires a position in a school as instructress of French. Highly satisfactory references required. Address addressed PARIS, at this office, will secure a prompt interview.

FEMALE SERVANTS' HOME.—No 149 Grand-st. is a respectable quiet and cheap boarding house for female servants while out of place. They are also provided with the most respectable permanent situations. Servants from the country find it a great convenience. Apply to the Matron, No. 149 Grand-st., New York.

FEMALE HELP OF ALL KINDS—May be obtained at the office of the American, &c., Employment Society, No 13 Bible House, Astor-place; No 8 Sands-st., Brooklyn, and No 21 Greenwich-st. Also, farm hands, gardeners, coachmen, &c. Also, 27 Greenwich-st. Also, a great number of girls, from 14 to 17 years of age, may be had.

A COOK WANTED—To go ten miles out of town; she must use crushed her business thoroughly, must be a good bread and pastry maker, and take care of a small dairy. None need apply but those who can bring good recommendation. Call at No. 297 Pearl-st., between 9½ and 12 o'clock, Wednesday morning.

GOVERNESS.—A Protestant French lady, experienced in tuition, who was educated in Paris, wishes for a situation as governess in a private family, or teacher of French and music in a first-class boarding school. She speaks the Italian, French and German equally well, and can give instruction in all the higher branches of a solid English education, Spanish German, the piano, harp, theorbo, lute and painting. Address A. Z., Governess, office of this paper. The South would not be objected to, provided the salary were liberal.

TEACHER WANTED—In a New York City High School, an English and Classical Teacher, of experience who is well versed in the business, is apt to teach, who knows how to interest, control, and educate the pupils he undertakes to teach. Salary $500 for school year of forty-two weeks, beginning in September. Address, with references and age of applicant, SOCRATES, New-York Times Office.

TEACHER.—A young lady of experience in teaching the English branches, and competent to instruct in French and Latin, desires a situation either in a school or family, as teacher. Best City references given. Call to-day or to-morrow, at No. 47 St. Mark's-place; or, address J. R. W., Box No 366 Post-Office.

TEACHER WANTED.—A French lady to board in a Young Ladies' School, to teach French, Drawing, and Painting. Apply at No. 46 Pierrepont-st., Brooklyn Heights.

WANTED.—Male and female help in every capacity, can be obtained at the Brooklyn Family and Servants Industrial Institute, No. 204 Fulton-st., under the approval of his Honor the Mayor and other distinguished citizens. Families returning from the country are daily leaving their orders. All in want of employment should call and register their names and capacity for workiness. Mrs PARKER, Female Superintendent; F. BROWNE, General Agent.

WANTED—A young gentleman of good address and business habits, with about $20, to engage in a light and pleasant occupation. For further information address CASH BUSINESS, Broadway Post-Office, for two days.

287 BROADWAY, CORNER OF BRADE-ST., up stairs, MORRIS, CORNELL & CO.'S, can be obtained respectable German, English, Scotch and Irish help, for cooks, housekeepers and private families; also waiters, coachmen, gardeners, farmers and mechanics, at this or the Branch office, No. 128 Greenwich-st. Terms moderate.

GOVERNESS.—A lady of experience in teaching desires a situation in a private family, to teach the English branches and music. Address Miss G. A. D., Times office, New-York.

A GENTLEMAN—Engaged as general book-keeper in a City Bank, having a few hours to spare in the latter part of the day, would take charge of a set of books, or any other business requiring about from two to three hours a day. Address Box No. 3,[illegible]

CHAMBERMAID AND SEAMSTRESS—A respectable young woman, satisfactory. Call at her present place, No. 34 Bleecker-st., for two days.

COOK WANTED.—Must understand baking, fish, and vegetables. Also, a young woman to make and mend. Good City references will be required. Wages liberal. Apply at No. 45 Bleecker-st.

WAITERS AND COACHMEN—Will find a good place by applying at the Brooklyn Domestic Institute, No. 204 Fulton-st., Brooklyn. Also, wanted for the South, a number of good men and women.

WANTED.

CHRISTIAN HOME FOR FEMALE INFANTS—Kept by Mrs. Ann M. Lathrop, corner Greenpoint-ave. and Jackson-st., near Newtown-av., supplied from their institution.

CLERK WANTED—To assist in keeping the records of City; a young man in an office. The principal work is in his writing. He must write neatly. A young man from the country would be preferred. Address, with particulars, INSTITUTION, Times Office.

CABINET MAKERS WANTED—Two or three good work men, and two or three apprentices. Apply at the factory, No. 66 7th-av. THOS. H. BROWN.

MAN WANTED—A steady reliable man who is used to putting up and repairing locking fixtures; none others need apply. Inquire at No 139 Chatham-st.

HEAD WAITER—And three Laundresses wanted. Hire a hotel.—A colored cook and a general assortment of other servants want situations. Good references will be given. Apply at No. 14 6th-av. C. MASON.

A YOUNG MAN WANTED—To act as porter, in a silk and military goods importing house. Address Box No. 799 Post-Office.

MUSICAL.—A Soprano and Alto wish situations in one in a Choir, for the last fifteen months, and can give good references. Apply at No. 177 Henry-st., Brooklyn.

WANTED FOR WHALING VOYAGES—Young American men wanted, also coopers, carpenters and blacksmiths, cooks and stewards; advances from $50 to $75 to outfit. Apply No. 20 West-st., near Pier No. 4 North River.

LAW.—The advertiser, who has been in practice in this City during the last five years, would like to make an arrangement with some older lawyer as assistant or junior partner. Address GROTIUS, Daily Times Office.

STRAW-HAT TRIMMERS WANTED.—None but those who are perfectly acquainted need apply to A. FELAND & CO., No 171 Pearl-st.

FIRST-CLASS COOKS, NURSES, LAUNDRESSES, &c.—Are wanted immediately for excellent situations now ready, at THE SERVANTS' INSTITUTE, No. 349 Grand-st.

JOHN YOUNG—Agent of the PROTESTANT EMPLOYMENT SOCIETY, is very successful in supplying families, boarding-houses, &c., with female servants. Office No. 7 Carmine-st., near Bleecker.

BOARDING.

BOARDING.—Pleasant suites of rooms furnished can be obtained with board in a first-class brown stone house, with all the modern improvements, most desirably located at No. 204 West 23d-st., opposite London-terrace. Unexceptionable references given.

BOARDING.—Gentlemen and their wives, also single gentlemen, may obtain fine rooms and good board by applying at No. 49 Union-square, corner of East 17th-st. Reference exchanged.

BOARDING—Either transient or permanent, for families or single gentlemen, at Nos. 35, 37 and 39 Murray-st. Dinner 1 and 3 P. M.

BOARD WANTED—By a young lady in a private family or first-class boarding-house, (private family preferred.) References given and required. Address HOME, Broadway Post Office.

BOARD WANTED—For single gentleman. Apply to CHARLES W. POLMAN, No. 187 East 14th-st., near 3d-av.

BOARD ON BROOKLYN HEIGHTS.—A few single gentlemen can be accommodated with pleasant rooms and partial board by applying at No. 77 Willow-st., Brooklyn. Terms moderate. References exchanged.

BOARD IN BROOKLYN.—Pleasant rooms with Board can be obtained at No 96 State-st., convenient to the South and Wall-st. ferries. References required.

BOARD IN BROOKLYN.—ROOMS, single or in Suites, admirably adapted for a FAMILY or for SINGLE GENTLEMEN, and very pleasantly located. House No 70 Sands-st., corner of Jay. References required.

BOARDERS FROM THE COUNTRY.—It is high time that persons wishing boarders for the Winter would apply. A great many have already secured their homes; very many are now applying. Do not be behind time. Boarders directed free of charge. Office No. 368 Broadway, near Grace Church.

BOARD IN BROOKLYN—For a single gentleman, or a married couple, without children, in the house corner of Carlton and Greene-avs. The accommodations are a spacious bedroom and closet, with parlor and piano, in common with the family. The furniture is new and costly. Terms for one, $8, without dinners during the week; $12 for two, with full board. Address J. W. S., Box No. 1,374 Post-Office.

BOARD IN BROOKLYN—Five minutes' walk from South Ferry, No 76 Warren-st., near Henry, a desirable location. Gentlemen can obtain pleasant rooms with breakfast and tea.

ROOMS TO LET.—Two or three single gentlemen can be obtain handsome rooms (either without board) in a first class house, furnished with every convenience, slightly located up town, and occupied by a strictly private family, without young children. Those disposed to pay liberal pr for the comforts and privileges of a most desirable home, may address HOME at this office. References of the first respectability required.

ROOM TO LET.—A very pleasant, furnished room on the first floor, with or without partial board, to a single gentleman, in a private house, pleasantly and privately located in the immediate vicinity and west of Stuyvesant-square; modern improvements. Address G. B., office of this paper.

ROOMS TO LET.—A splendid suite of parlors and a bedroom, at No. 870 Broadway, suitable for a family or a party of gentlemen wishing to hire on the European plan, thus being an exclusive 1 ribbon. For terms and particulars apply as above, before 12 o'clock A. M.

ROOMS TO LET.—A small private family of adults wish to rest to one or two gentlemen, without board, two delightfully situated rooms, in the second story of a first-class house, within five minutes walk of Wall-st. and South Ferries. Apply at No. 177 Henry-st., Brooklyn.

ROOMS AND BOARD WANTED—For a family of three persons, with nurse and child; at a convenient distance from the Metropolitan Theatre. Address R. J., Times office.

ROOMS AND BOARD—At No 362 Atlantic-st., Brooklyn. House new and pleasantly situated. Fifteen minutes' walk to ferries.

$3.50.—TWO GENTLEMEN, friends, wishing to room together, can meet with a comfortable room, on third floor, with good board, and in a pleasant location. Apply at No. 65 Henry-st., Brooklyn.

ONE OR TWO GENTLEMEN, desiring a genteel furnished room or rooms, without board, can be accommodated on reasonable terms, in a private family, where there are no boarders. Handsome gas chandelier, use of bath, &c. Apply at No. 42 East 26th-st., between Lexington and 4th-avs.

A PRIVATE FAMILY—In 14th-st. would let with board their second story, handsomely furnished, to a gentleman and wife, or single gentleman. Address Q. L., Times office.

21 LAFAYETTE-PLACE, between 4th-st. and Astor-place—Rooms in suite or separately, with board. House strictly first-class.

VERY DESIRABLE APARTMENTS—For families or single persons, can be had at No. 106 West 14th-st. References given and required.

POLITICAL.

ELEVENTH WARD.—The FREE-SOIL REPUBLICAN CLUB of the XIth Ward will meet on WEDNESDAY EVENING, the 5th inst., at No 112 Avenue C. The Republican Electors of the Ward are requested to attend for the transaction of general business, and the election of two Delegates to represent this Assembly District in the Republican State Convention.

FREEMAN HISCOX, President.

Charles Perley,
Wm Gray,
John Lewis,
Daniel Willis,
} Vice Presidents.

George W. Barrett, Secretary.

TWENTIETH WARD.—REPUBLICAN AND TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT. The friends of the cause are requested to meet at Continental Hall, cor. 34th-st. and 8th-av., on this TUESDAY EVENING, at 8 o'clock, to aid in the adoption of measures to secure the triumph of their principles.

MAGNETIC POWDERS.

The quicksilver is high
And the bed-bugs are "spry,"
For their appetite 'a keen in warm weather,
Then to 1 TOM's away,
Buy his Powder and slay
All the bed-bugs and roaches together.

DEPOT FOR LYON'S MAGNETIC POWDER AND PILLS for the destruction of insects, rats and mice. Nos. 424 Broadway, and 6 South 5th-st., Philadelphia.

FURS.

FURS.—J. H. HARLEY, No 34 John-st., Importer and Manufacturer of European and American Furs for Ladies' wear.

Southern and Western customers will please examine his Furs and Russian Trimmings; also, fancy Victorines and Duck, suitable for their trade. His long experience in the business enables him to sell none but articles he can warrant.

His assortment comprises Capes, Mantillas, Victorines, Muffs and Cuffs of every description of Fur in use; besides Sleigh Robes, Foot Muffs, Ladies' and Gents' Fur Gloves. No. 34 John-st., one door from Nassau-st.

NEW AND EXTENSIVE JOB PRINTING OFFICE.

NEW TYPE AND STEAM PRESSES, AND EVERY REQUISITE FOR EXECUTING ALL KINDS OF PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL PRINTING

SUCH AS

BOOKS,	CIRCULARS,
PAMPHLETS,	CARDS,
CHECKS,	BILL-HEADS,
NOTES,	HAND-BILLS,
RECEIPTS,	LABELS,
STORE BILLS,	SHOW BILLS,

And all kinds of MERCANTILE Printing at the LOWEST CASH PRICE.

Orders left at the office of this paper promptly attended to.

AS YOU VALUE YOUR JAWS WEAR A BRACE—It is not only manly, but healthy. Now don't tell me that your teeth won't grow; they will stop. The bird that won't sing must be petted, and if your head won't grow by OBEDIENT will force it (even if there has been a dent, [illegible] it will not injure or stain the skin. It's proven over the head in more like cases than reality. Ask people who have worn it for the last five or six years. Call on Genevieve OBEDIENT, No 51 Chambers-st. Also, in Boston, of Mr. G. GRAHAM, No 292 Broad-st.; Hall 336 No 3 Sudbury-st.; Abner; HAYES, No. 138 Pearl-st.; Hawkins; SPALDING, No. 21 Summer-row, Boston; HIRSH, No 45 South 3d-st., Philadelphia.

TAR, PINE-TAR, TURPENTINE, SUN-BURN, TAR-BARRELS, &c.—Tar, Pine-Tar, Turpentine and Sun-Burn Tar Barrels, now landing and for sale by GOODRICH BRAIN, NEW BEDFORD ROAD, FOOT OF HOUSTON-ST., EAST RIVER. Also, Tar Barrels, Pine-Tar, Tar Buckets, Tar Brushes, Tar Pots and Tar Kettles, for sale by the subscriber, at the Tar Yard, Pier No. 1, East River, foot of Rutgers-st

TO LET.

HOUSE TO LET, 128 BROOME-ST.—A few doors west Avenue A, a very pleasant residence, with Gardens, the South Ferry, City Hall and Post Office, and Greenwood cars the pleasantest locality in the city. Possession given immediately. Apply on the premises, or at the office of Messrs. Bennett, corner Fulton and Nassau-sts.

HOUSE TO LET.—That elegant house in Bleecker-st, Brooklyn, contains twenty-one rooms and all the conveniences, commanding a beautiful view of the Bay and City of New-York, with bath, gas, hot and cold water, &c. Possession of the first respectability only. Inquire of the proprietor of the premises, No 1 Montague-st, opposite Hicks-st, of EDWARD VARIN.

HOUSE TO LET.—A very desirable three-story residence, with all the improvements, in East 18th-st. Will be rented low to a first-class tenant, and will let the whole or part of the furniture. Address R. W. H., Box No 314, Post-Office.

FURNISHED HOUSE TO LET, WITH CARRIAGE-HOUSE.—In a fashionable neighborhood, rent low for Winter use, with more than the ordinary accommodations, and within ten minutes' walk of Wall-st. Furniture nearly new, and in perfect order. Possession immediately. Apply at 308 Hudson-st.

DESIRABLE ROOMS AND OFFICE TO LET.—Suitable for a business firm, corner Hewitt and Centre-sts. Inquire of E. O. FARNHURST, on the premises.

LIGHT ROOMS AND STEADY POWER.—At Low rates, by Mr. GAUDU, No. 80 Walker-st.

SECOND STORY AND ATTIC ROOM TO LET.—In a respectable family, with two entire rooms. Apply at No. 126 2nd-st.

TWO NEW THREE AND A HALF STORY HOUSES TO LET.—With the subscribers addresses by letter, with all the modern improvements, Nos. 115 and 119 Tenth-st., between 4th and 5th-avs. Possession immediately. Apply to JOHN WILSON, corner of Cortlandt-st and Broadway, under the Gilsey building.

TO LET, LEASE, OR FOR SALE.—Valuable warehouse and business stand, Bleecker-st., No. 164, Brooklyn, a most desirable opening. Also, No. 118 Bleecker, northeast corner Amity-place. Houses and stable, suitable for a physician, dwelling or business purposes. Apply to JOHN R. KELSO, No. 62 William-st.

TO LET.—A building for manufacture, 50 by 100, well lighted and with heating and gas apparatus, complete in every respect, with or without steam power. Inquire on the premises, Nos. 12 and 14 First-st., near Grand.

COTTAGE TO LET.—A neat brick cottage on two lots of ground near Division-st., at the terminus of the Myrtle-av. cars. A new convenient stable in the rear, a grape arbor in the garden. House in perfect order and newly painted. Will be rented extremely low to a good tenant, for the balance of the year or longer. Apply to ANTHONY J. BLEECKER & CO., No. 7 Broad-st.

COTTAGE TO LET.—A beautiful cottage house up Crown, near 8th-av., in a good neighborhood. House two stories and basement, painted walls, stoop in front and wood fluted pillars in front, a large grape-vine in the yard. Rent $200. Possession immediately. Apply to SMITH & WADELL, No. 444 8th-av.

STORES OR WAREROOMS TO LET.—In the Second story of Appleton's Building, corner of Leonard-st., most spacious stores on Broadway, suited to every description of retail or wholesale business. No more desirable location to be found on Broadway. Apply to D. APPLETON & CO., Nos. 346 and 348 Broadway.

STORES TO LET OR LEASE FOR FIVE YEARS.—The two handsome 5-story stores, Nos. 27 and 29 Cornelia-st., near Broadway, in Cornelia Railroad, fitted up in all respects. Apply to DUBOIS & VANDERVOORT, No. 97 Water-st.

STORE TO LET FOR A LIGHT BUSINESS.—A splendid store on 2d floor No 261 Broadway, near Cortlandt-st. Also, five neat and convenient offices in the same building. Rent very low to a good tenant. Apply to F. C. ACKERMAN, No 161 Broadway.

STEAM POWER TO LET.—Several well lighted rooms with steady power in the building corner of Hester and Elizabeth-sts. Also, in building on corner of Mott and 1st-sts. Rents very moderate. Apply at No 215 Pearl-st. THOMAS MORTON.

STEAM POWER TO LET.—In lightened airy rooms, in a new building in Cliff-st. Apply to J. C. HULL & SON, No. 183 Cliff-st.

LOTS IN 34TH-ST. TO LEAST OR LEASE.—These lots with 25 ft. between 1st-av. and East River. Apply to JAMES ROBINSON, No. 74 Beaver-st.

BOUNTY LANDS.

LAND WARRANTS.

WE ARE PREPARED TO EXECUTE ALL ORDERS for the purchase and sale of

LAND WARRANTS,

IN LARGE AND SMALL QUANTITIES.

Our facilities for purchasing warrants at first hands are not excelled.

All orders for the purchase of Warrants will be executed at THE SMALL COMMISSION OF ONE DOLLAR A PIECE.

Assignments will be rigidly scrutinized.

S. E. COBB & CO.,

Stock and Bond Brokers, No. 32 William-st., New-York.

REFERENCES—Bank of the Commonwealth, Ohio Life and Trust Company.

LAND WARRANTS WANTED by TAYLOR BROTHERS, Bankers, No. 76 Wall-st., New-York.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

ELY & MUNGER, PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS, No. 519 Broadway, where may be found an extensive assortment of their celebrated PIANOS, warranted to be unsurpassed in strength, durability, sweetness and purity of tone. Our School Piano, 6½ octaves, is believed to be superior to anything of the same compass—plain, cheap and substantial.

ELY & MUNGER.

No. 519 Broadway, (St. Nicholas Hotel.)

Also, Sole Agents for CARHART, NEEDHAM & CO.'S MELODIONS.

HAINE'S NEW-YORK AND BROWN & ALLEN'S PREMIUM BOSTON PIANOS—Retailed at wholesale prices for cash. Mr. Brown was ten years foreman in the justly celebrated manufactory of the late Jonas Chickering, Esq., where he perfected and applied his Patent Grand Action. We exhibit only below Brown & Allen's the best Boston Pianos made. Pianos fully warranted and guaranteed to give satisfaction, or purchase money refunded. COOK & BROTHER, No. 343 Broadway.

REMOVAL.—BACON & RAVEN have, in consequence of the extension of Canal-st., removed their Piano Forte Warerooms to No. 125 Grand-st., one door east of Broadway. They offer their friends and the public at their new place of business, an extensive assortment of Piano-fortes, warranted in every respect.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN PIANO FORTES.—Messrs. HAINES, NEWTON & BRADBURYS respectfully invite attention to their Piano-fortes, constructed with the patent arch wrest plank, which is undoubtedly the most substantial improvement ever introduced into this popular instrument.

PIANOS CAN BE BOUGHT IN BROOKLYN FAR LOW, IF NOT LOWER THAN IN NEW-YORK.—A large assortment of the best New-York and Boston manufacture can always be found at H. E. MARLOW'S Warerooms, No. 22 Court-st., Marble Block, near City Hall. Pianos to let.

HAZLETON BROS.—PIANO FORTE MANUFACTURERS, No. 239 Centre-st.—Where may be found a fine assortment of their celebrated Pianos, in plain and ornamental cases, warranted to be unsurpassed in strength and purity of tone. Second hand Pianos taken in exchange.

T. H. CHAMBERS—PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURER, No. 365 Broadway, invites purchasers to call and examine his superior 6½, 6¾ and 7-octave piano-fortes. Second hand Pianos taken in exchange.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

$1,600.—A VERY VALUABLE LEASE FOR SALE.—With a cash business in this City, well established, including the entire store fixtures and furniture now on the premises necessary for a profitable continuation of the business, which yields $400 to $600 weekly. Owing to other immediate engagements the advertiser is induced to write this notice. Address, for three days, A., New-York Post-Office.

$8,000 OR $10,000.—PARTNER WANTED with this amount, to join a party who has a larger amount already invested in the manufacturing of pine lumber. The party has a large and valuable tract of land, with mills, &c., complete. The business can be made to realize a large per centage on the investment. Address LUMBER, at the office of this paper.

$2,000.—A PARTNER WANTED.—With the above sum, to engage in a manufacturing business where profits are large. One to attend to out door business. None but those with the above sum need apply. Address to E. F., 26 Sackett-st., Brooklyn, or to the office of this paper.

$2,000—WANTED—An active partner of responsibility, to join a party in a most profitable cash business, paying about 200 per cent. profit. Unexceptionable references required and given. Address J. P. W., office of this paper.

HAT STORE FOR SALE.—For sale, the stock of fixtures and cases, tools, fixtures, &c.; also the lease of an established hat store, in an adjoining city. Will be sold collectively or separately. Apply to JOHN RANDALL, No. 178 Water-st., N. Y.

COPARTNERSHIP.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICE.—The firm of STEVENS & WALLACE expires this day by its own limitation. Either partner will sign in liquidation.

F. H. STEVENS,
F. A. WALLACE.

The undersigned have this day formed a copartnership under the name and firm of STEVENS, WALLACE & MORRIS, for the transaction of a general Stock, Bond, Exchange and Collection business. Office No. 25 William-st.

F. H. STEVENS,
F. A. WALLACE,
D. C. MORRIS.

Late Cashier of the Banking House of Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co.

New-York, Sept. 1, 1855.

NEW-YORK, SEPT. 1, 1855.—The copartnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the name and firm of INGRAM & NEGUS, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The outstanding affairs of the firm will be adjusted by GEORGE NEGUS, who is alone authorized to use the name of the firm in liquidation thereof.

JOSEPH A. INGRAM.
GEORGE NEGUS.

Witness—N. B. FULLER.

The undersigned will continue the merchant tailoring and clothing business at the old stand, No. 41 Chatham-st., on his own account. GEORGE NEGUS.

CO-PARTNERSHIP.—EDWARD WHITEHOUSE (having associated with him his son and Mr. HECTOR MORISON, late connected the banking, stock and exchange brokerage business, and the negotiation of paper, under the firm of E. WHITEHOUSE, SON & MORISON, at No. 54 William-st., corner of Pine-st.

MACHINERY.

STRAW AND HAY CUTTERS.—Gray & Co.'s Prize Medal Cutting Machinery, price. A. LONGETT, No. 16 Gliddon-, corner of Fulton.

EMBOSSING PRESS.—A second-hand embossing press wanted, cheap. One suitable for Sun's. Address COKENDER, at this Office.

INSTRUCTION.

A. DUDWORTH'S DANCING ACADEMIES, New-York, No. 606 Broadway, Lessons 12th-st. Brooklyn, corner 4th-st and Fulton-st.

MR. DUDWORTH begs the honor of informing those that his New-York Academy on SATURDAY, Oct. 6, at the Brooklyn Academy on MONDAY, Oct. 8. Omnibuses pass every three few, can be obtained at either of the academies or at his residence.

MR. DUDWORTH has the pleasure of informing his friends and patrons in her respective institutions is now publish a dancing academy in Brooklyn, on the plan as such as will in New-York, he has erected a spacious building, containing every or everything that could be required by many years experience, and he is so very anxious to which it will be devoted. The location is one of the most accessible in Brooklyn. The Omnibus passes the door every minute, and stages in all directions. Schools and families, &c. Dancing Academy, Nos. 606 Broadway, New-York, and Fulton-st., Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN COLLEGIATE AND POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE.—The Board of Trustees of this Institution, has leave to announce its opening on the 10th Sept., under the Presidency of JOHN S. RAYMOND, LL.D., late of the University of Alabama, assisted by a full corps of Professors and Teachers in every department of Instruction.

It has been the aim of the Board of Trustees, in the erection of this Institution, and the appointment of its Faculty of Instruction, and with the liberal means placed at their disposal, to secure to the citizens of Brooklyn every possible advantage in the education of their children enjoyed by the students of the Free Academy of New-York, or the College of the City and State, and as efficient for the attainment of this object will be found, either by the Board of Trustees or by the Board of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees is composed of the following gentlemen, to whom reference may be made:

J. A. Hinsdale, John F. Martin, J. H. Lockwood, R. A. Tucker, Robert S. Cable, J. H. Wallace, Jr., Jas. Wallace, Jr., Jas. Wallace, Jr., J. B. Chittenden, James Rowe, George S. Howland, Joseph C. Low, D. R. Landon, Charles E. Marvin, A. S. Barnes, H. G. Harrison, J. H. PROTHINGHAM, President.

Josiah O. Low, Secretary.

UNIVERSITY OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.—THE DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE AND ARTS will open on Tuesday, the 18th September, at 9½ A. M., and the Faculty of Medicine will meet themselves on Tuesday, the 18th, at 9½ A. M., in the Council room.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE will reopen on the 1st October, and all Students will enrol themselves at the Council-room, on the 1st October.

THE DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING.—The exercises of this department will be resumed by Prof. Bull, and will commence on the 10th of 9 P. M.

DEPARTMENT OF ARTS OF DESIGN.—The School of Design will commence on the 10th September, at the studio of the Professor, No. 23 East 12th-st., one door west of Broadway.

THE DEPARTMENT OF PRACTICAL CHEMISTRY will be open for the reception of students on the 17th September.

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES.—Classes will be formed at the commencement of other college duties, and arrangements may be made for evening instruction.

THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL, Prof. JOHNSON, Rector, will be opened for students on Monday, 10th September.

ISAAC FERRIS, Chancellor.

UNIVERSITY, WASHINGTON-SQUARE, August 2, 1855.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—By Rev. B. HOTCHKISS and Mrs. HUTCHINGS, of New-Haven, Conn. The Autumn Term of this School will commence on the second WEDNESDAY in September. It is the aim of the instructors of this Institution, to make it in all respects, such as parents may desire for their daughters.

THE BEST advantages and instruction in the English, Classical and Scientific studies, $250 per annum. Pupils have the privilege of attending the Scientific Lectures of Yale College, at the charge of the Professors. Modern languages taught by superior native masters.

REFERENCES.—Rev. Drs. Leonard Bacon and Prof. H. Porter, Hon. R. S. Baldwin, A. N. Street, Esq., Hon. A. N. Skinner, W. H. Russell, Esq., New-Haven; Rev. Dr. Adams, of Hollywood Place Church, New-York; Rev. Dr. Cox, Oswego, N. Y.; Hon. T. Frelinghuysen, President Rutgers College, New-Brunswick, N. J.; President Hopkins, Williams College, Massachusetts; D. H. Lewis, Esq., Cherry Valley, N. Y.; J. Andrews, Esq., Cleveland, Ohio, and the Directors of the A. H. C. P. R. Boston.

Circulars may be obtained of A. Newton, Bible House, New-York, and of Mr. Hutchings, at No. 84 Crown-st., New-Haven.

THE CLASSICAL GYMNASIUM—Bible House, Astor-place. J. F. BINGHAM, Rector, will open the exercises of its fourth year, on Monday, Sept. 24. The Gymnasium is a Day High School for first class, divided into two departments, and receiving thirty-two boys each. The studies begin with the simplest elements and embrace the most important English studies, a course of Mathematics, French, Latin, Greek, Book-keeping, Drawing and Musical of Arms. The whole course, the details of which have been arranged with great care, and to which the special attention of parents is invited, occupies six years but pupils may begin in any class for which they are fitted. The school-rooms are thought to have quite unusual provision for the health of the pupils. Novel and best methods are there their sons both to be industrious and to accomplish something, and no others, are invited to call at the School, after Sept. 1, or to address a letter to the Rector at any time. There are now vacancies.

N. B. Pupils are invited to begin their studies on the first Monday of September. All volunteers will be informally instructed, gratuitously, till the annual opening of the School. The Report for the last year, catalogue, and course of study, may be had at the office of the Treasurer of the American Bible Society.

FRENCH AND SPANISH.—Mons. C. A. ROY, Professor of Languages, has the honor to inform his friends and patrons that he has removed to No. 15 Stuyvesant-st., where he can be seen from 8 to 10 A. M., and from 4 to 6 P. M.

References—Mortimer Livingston, Esq., No. 63 Broadway; Theodore Sedgwick, Esq., No. 63 Broadway; Rawlins Lowndes, Esq., No. 34 16th-st.; Joseph Delafield, Esq., No. 104 Franklin-st.; John E. Williams, Esq., New-York Hotel; Daniel Parish, Esq., corner of 16th-st. and 5th-av.; John Campbell, Esq., No. 112 Nassau-st.

BOARDING SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Norwalk, Conn. GILBERT PRIMROSE, Principal. The School will commence its second session on WEDNESDAY, the 5th of September, 1855.

The design of the Principal is to secure to the pupils placed under his care such facilities as will enable them thoroughly to prosecute all the studies necessary to a complete preparation for College, or to engage in the commercial or active pursuits of life. To attain this, competent Teachers are provided in each Department of the School.

Circulars containing definite information relative to the School may be had by addressing the Principal, at his residence, Norwalk, Ct.

YOUNG LADIES' BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL.—No. 101 West 23d-st., New-York, will reopen TUESDAY, September 11, 1855. Rector, Rev. JOHN J. ELMENDORF. English studies of the senior and junior classes, under the exclusive charge of the Rector. Number in a class limited to ten. Circulars at Johnson's and Stanford's, No. 637 Broadway, and at the Rector, Hon MURRAY HOFFMAN, G. P. CAMMANN, M. D., L. M. HOFFMAN, CHARLES ROOME, N. P. BAILEY, SAMUEL DAVIS.

WEST TWENTY-SECOND-STREET HOUSE AND LOTS FOR SALE.—A fine house, 30x50 feet, with several lots of ground. House is substantially built; contains all the modern improvements, and presents an excellent opportunity for the purchase of a first class residence, at a very low price, the owner not a former occupant but having removed out of the State. Apply to

A. J. BLEECKER & CO., No 7 Broad-st.

UNIVERSITY GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—The three departments, the Junior, Upper English and Classical, offer the means of a thorough preparation for College, or the counting-room, from the age of seven years. The first quarter begins September 10. Circulars can be obtained from the janitor of the University, and at the bookstores of LOCKWOOD & SON, ARTHUR, CROWEN & RAYNOR.

GEORGE E. PARKER, Principal.

YOUNG LADIES' SCHOOL.—Miss HAVENS will resume her School for Young Ladies, at No. 81 4th-st., on THURSDAY, Sept. 13. Her School circulars may be obtained at the office of the Howard Insurance Co., No 67 Wall-st., of Messrs. FRENCH, ROGERS & BEEKMAN, No. 42 William-st., of R. N. HAVENS, Esq., No. 32 Wall-st., and at her residence. She will be at home after Sept. 6.

MOUNT WASHINGTON COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE, No. 216 4th-st., on Washington-square (entrance No. 156 Macdougal-st.), opens its Thirteenth Scholastic Year on MONDAY, Sept 10. Pupils from seven years of age and upward are received in the Junior, Middle and Senior Departments.

CLARKE & FANNING, Principals.

THE CLARKE SISTERS respectfully announce that their BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL for YOUNG LADIES No. 76 6th-av., will reopen on MONDAY, September 17. Circulars may be obtained at CROWEN'S Bookstore, No. 630 Broadway, or at RAYNOR'S, No 73 Bowery. They will be at home after Sept. 1, to receive applications.

BROOKLYN COLLEGIATE AND POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE.—Livingston-st., between Court and Boerum sts. The Trustees have leave to announce that the Building will be specially opened for public inspection on THURSDAY EVENING, 6th inst. All interested in the success of the Institution are invited to attend.

J. O. LOW, Secretary.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.—PAUL DRYSEN, Professor of the German language, continues to give instruction at his house, No. 776 Greenwich-st., or in schools and pupils' residences, commencing again for the season, on MONDAY next, Sept. 10. Application to be made at the house or at the bookstores, Nos. 703 and 200 Broadway.

FRENCH LESSONS.—J. J. BURNIER, a graduate of the University of France, teaches classes in schools and privately at his pupils', or at his residence, No. 218 6th-av., near 14th-st. References of the highest character. Can be seen by cards, time, No. 2 Columbia College. Evening classes will begin Oct. 1. Ladies' class with the assistance of Mme. BURNIER.

MRS. BROWN'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—No. 30 Varick-st., Hudson square, will be reopened MONDAY, Sept. 10. Circulars may be obtained at the bookstores of LOCKWOOD & SON, No 411 Broadway, and ROBERT CARTER & BROTHER, No. 285 Broadway.

MISSES O'BRIEN'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, No 125 West 23d-st., between 6th and 7th-avs., will be reopened on MONDAY, Sept. 10. Circulars with references, &c., obtained at their residence.

THE CHELSEA COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.—No. 344 West 19th-st., will commence the exercises of its tenth year on Monday, Sept. 10. For particulars, see circular, which may be obtained at the Institute.

J. H. BROWN, Principal.

CLASSICAL, FRENCH AND ENGLISH SCHOOL.—No. 672 Broadway, corner 12th-st.—The three departments of our school will be reopened on MONDAY, Sept. 10. Circulars can be obtained at the school and at St. Mark's Rectory, No. 104 2d-av. C. C. ANTHON.

MADAME MARTINET'S FRENCH AND ENGLISH BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL for young Ladies, No. 17 West 32d-st., between 5th and 6th-avs., will reopen on MONDAY, Sept. 10.

J. F. WORTH'S CLASSICAL AND ENGLISH SCHOOL.—Nos. 246 and 248 Bowery, will be reopened on MONDAY, Sept. 10, at No. 207 4th-av., one door above 10th-st.

MISS COYLE respectfully informs her friends and the public that her school in Lower Hermosa will open on MONDAY, September 3. Circulars may be obtained at Mr. Crowen's, corner of Broadway and Prince-st.

MR. GEORGE HENRY CURTIS—No. 185 West 23d-st., gives Instruction Vocal and Instrumental, with the Piano and in Harmony and Composition.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, No. 70 Clinton-st., Brooklyn. Fall term will commence on MONDAY, Sept. 10.

C. M. & C. E. HOLDEN, Principals.

INSTRUCTION.

BROOKLYN.—COLLEGIATE CLASSICAL SCHOOL.—THE FIRST TERM of this School will commence on MONDAY, Sept. 10, at their respective rooms.

Rev. W. ELLIS, D.D., Rev. R. H. BAYNE,
Rev. J. C. OUTEN, Rev. J. CHRISTMAS,
Rev. J. V. FAIRBIRN, D.D., Rev. CONELLY BACON,
Rev. J. V. FAIRBIRN, D.D., Rev. [illegible],
Rev. DANIEL WADDEL, Rev. [illegible].

EDUCATION ON THE GERMAN PLAN.—The Humboldt Classical and Mercantile Institution, under the direction of Drs. RICHARDS and BENDAS, will open the school year, under Professor RICHARDS, on MONDAY, 10th inst. It is the most accessible in Brooklyn. The Omnibus passes the door every minute, and stages in all directions. Circulars with all the particulars may be had at the school, or at Taylor's, Stanford's, Johnson's, Crowen's, Rudd's, Carter's, Appleton's, Wiley's, Scribner's, Ivison & Phinney's, Bangs & Co.'s, Mason & Law's, Dodd's, Leavitt's, Ticknor & Fields', Sheldon & Co.'s, Lockwood's, Gray's, Ludwig's, Wynkoop's, Hallenbeck's, Sheldon

AUCTION SALES.

LARGE AND VERY VALUABLE FACTORY SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—Henry B. Ferris, Auctioneer.—On WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, at 10 o'clock each day, at the Salesroom, No. 172 Fulton-st., near Nassau-st., will be sold, by order of Messrs. J. A. Veale & Co., the entire stock of a large manufactory, consisting of a large and very valuable assortment of Mahogany Chamber Furniture, Sofas and Tables, Dining Tables, Wardrobes, Bedsteads, Washstands, Dressing Bureaus, Marble-top Tables, Chairs, Rocking Chairs, Cradles, Cribs, Mattresses, Feathers, Bedding, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Stoves, Tinware, Crockery, Glassware, Kitchen Furniture, Tools, Stocks, Benches, Vises, Lathes, Drills, Grindstones, Gas Pipe, Fixtures, Fire Hose, Ladders, Hatchets, Buckets, Ropes, Tackles, Blocks, Hardware, Cutlery, Guns, Rifles, Pistols, Powder, Shot, Lead, Fishing Tackle, Boats, Oars, Rowlocks, Boat Hooks, Anchors, Chains, Cordage, Sails, Tents, Awnings, Flags, Pennants, Signals, Ship Furniture, Ship Chandlery, Ship Stores, Provisions, Groceries, Liquors, Cigars, Tobacco, Pipes, Snuff, Soap, Candles, Oil, Paints, Glass, Putty, Brushes, Brooms, Buckets, Tubs, Baskets, Cordwood, Stoves, Furniture, Tools, Implements, Boxes, Barrels, Casks, Hogsheads, Tierces, Barrels, Kegs, Bottles, Jugs, Demijohns, Tumblers, Wineglasses, Decanters, Cordials, Ale, Porter, Cheese, Butter, Lard, Hams, Shoulders, Pickles, Sauces, Mustard, Vinegar, Molasses, Sugar, Coffee, Tea, Rice, Flour, Meal, Potatoes, Onions, Turnips, Beans, Peas, Corn, Oats, Hay, Straw, Fodder, Bags, Boxes, Cases, Crates, Hampers, Baskets

NEW-YORK CITY.

MEETING OF WORKINGMEN.

"THE FRIENDS OF LABOR."

Attempt to Form a New Political Party.

OPPOSITION TO THE PARK COMMITTEE.

In response to a call addressed to the Working-men of the City, a meeting was held at the Park, opposite the City Hall, on Tuesday night, for the purpose of forming a political organization "the best means of secure to the operatives of the various wards; the improvement of public lands and lots belonging to the City, for the benefit of the laboring," and a variety of other ob-jects of general character. The call was for a "mass meeting of the working men," but it was not such as to attract a large number. In fact, it was not much more than a political caucus. The Hall was filled, however, with a good-looking audience, and the proceedings were quite lively. The meeting was called to order by Mr. WILLIAM ADAMS, who nominated for President the Hon. JOHN A. COLDER, Hamilton Morrison, Esq., of the Tenth Ward, A. W. Day.

The Chairman then proceeded to read the Report of the Park Committee, which was received.

The following Committee, appointed, August 1, for the purpose of calling the Working-men of this City, respectfully reported:

Mr. JAQUES said he was opposed to their course, and other members spoke to the importance of the questions to be considered, and proposed as a substitute, the following:

Resolved, That the Working-men form a new party in politics, to be called "The People's Party."

Resolved, That the expense this party shall be the security for the rights of labor, and that they will not be controlled by the conditions of the parties.

Resolved, That the "signs of the times" are encouraging, and the "signs of the times" are encouraging, and the "signs of the times" are encouraging.

Resolved, That the Working-men form a new party in politics, to be called "The People's Party."

Resolved, That the expense this party shall be the security for the rights of labor, and that they will not be controlled by the conditions of the parties.

Resolved, That the "signs of the times" are encouraging, and the "signs of the times" are encouraging, and the "signs of the times" are encouraging.

Mr. WEST rose, and called on the Chairman to read the Report of the Committee, which was read, and was received.

Mr. BRADSHAW made a speech in which he declaimed against the oppression of the working classes, and vehemently opposed the proposed Free State Convention, on the ground that the men sent to represent the working classes at such a Convention would be the men, whose interests were not identical with theirs. He proceeded to rate "the Open Council," and caused some political outbursts. For instance, that the general system of electing political office in modern Available to the Workingmen, being condemned on the principle of "Down with the dissen and we will give you the nomination." (Loud applause.)

Mr. ADAMS said that he would show Mr. BRADSHAW that what he (Mr. ADAMS) contended for was to be obtained only by the means he (Mr. B.) proposed. That gentleman said the working men could only obtain the recognition of their rights by relying on themselves. It was JACKSON who had said, he believed, that eternal vigilance was the price of vigilance. He it was with the workingmen. There was his sentiments exactly, and he would volunteer to go to Albany as a delegate, and live on bread and water rather than remain at home and let their interests be sacrificed. (Applause.)

Mr. BAILEY rose in the middle of the room, and said he had some resolutions to offer. He was interrupted by a cry of "Question."

The CHAIRMAN invited him on the platform, and informed the audience that the question was now on the reference of the proposition.

Mr. JAQUES said the proposition for reference had been withdrawn.

The CHAIRMAN put it to the meeting notwithstanding, and it was carried by one "Ay" against no "No."

A Gentleman rose a point of order. The question was not on the reference, he said, but on the amendment to appoint five delegates from each Assembly District.

The CHAIRMAN put the amendment to the vote, and it appeared to be carried by a considerable majority.

A division was called for, and being taken, the amendment was declared to be lost.

The original resolution calling for a mass convention was then put and carried, after which loud cries for division were heard, mingled with laughter.

Mr. WEST rose, amid cries of "Question," and addressed the Chairman.

Mr. BAILEY, who had been called to the platform by the Chairman, also made an effort to go on.

Much confusion ensued as to which of these gentlemen had a right to the floor.

The CHAIR decided in favor of Mr. BAILEY, who offered two or three resolutions of a preamble and resolutions, vehemently anti-Know-Nothing in sentiment, and severing strongly of Tammany Hall, both in the magnitudence of their style and their gospel tone. The present banking system, the prohibitory liquor law, the present system of land monopoly, and the existing City charter, were unsparingly condemned, and an immense variety of measures made and advocated as "vital alike to humanity and the Republic."

Mr. WOODRUFF moved their reference to the State Convention before the last was read.

Another gentleman moved to amend that by referring them to a Committee of five.

The confusion became serious. A dozen gentlemen rose and attempted to make themselves heard. The confusion was tremendous, but high above the din was heard the stentorian voice of a great big fellow in diagonally shouting "No test of SMITH, BICKLES & Co. ought to come here to crush down our resolutions." (Applause.)

Mr. BRADSHAW wanted to put the sincerity of Mr. BAILEY to the test by asking him if he would insert in his resolutions an one to the effect that nobody but a working man should be contained as a candidate for public office. (Loud applause.) The confusion which ensued was indescribable. The Chairman put amendments and resolutions indiscriminately as they were offered, and declared sometimes that one was adopted and sometimes another. Kicking of boots on the floor, shouting and hooting ensued the couple of the Chairmen, and lasted for several minutes. A most indecorous display of parliamentary rules was made by several gentlemen who managed to edge in a word in the intervals of calm; but eventually the matter was decided by the Chairman's declaring that the motion for referring Mr. BAILEY's resolutions to a committee of five was carried.

Mr. WEST then got up and endeavored to make a speech, but the feeling of the meeting was palpably adverse to hearing him. He faced it out, however, and made a lengthened vindication of the action of the Committee and the measures recommended in the report.

Subsequently the meeting adjourned.

The Ten Tog Club Regatta.

The Annual Regatta of the Ten Tog Club, of Manhattanock, came off yesterday, and it proved to be one of the interesting and exciting races of the season; the boats running from Collins' Point, round the buoy of Twogg's Neck, and back, for prizes of $50 and $30.

The following boats competed for the prizes: The White Pigeon, formerly known as the Flying Cloud, owned by Mr. HOFFMAN, Rye Neck; Little Katy Did, alias Victorine, alias Red House Belle, entered by Mr. BROWN, of the Red House, Harlem; Rivina, alias American Boy, (new,) entered by Capt. BUNKER, of Manhattanock; Echo, entered by HORACE WALDO, of New Rochelle; Sam, entered by JOHN PROVOOST, of Portchester; Wide Awake, entered by J. P. KNAPP, of Orienta, and the Express, entered by Mr. FARR, of Manhattanock.

At 11½ A. M., the firing of the last signal gun, all the cables were slipped and the vessels started, and came in as follows:

	h. m. s.		h. m. s.
White Pigeon	3 41	Echo	3 42
Victorine	3 41 15	Sam	3 43 30
Rivina	3 41 40	Wide-Awake	3 44 50

Contributions for the Family of the English Physician.

Previously acknowledged	$368 75	Cosmopolitan	$5 00
J.	1 00	T. A. C.	5 00
G.	1 00	R. W. C.	5 00
J. A. B.	1 00	H. S.	5 00
		J. P. K.	10 00
Total			$401 75

Lewis Baker.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Where is BAKER?

GRAPESHOT.

In the Tombs. He will be tried at the opening of the October Term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Persuasive.

That interesting gentleman generally known as AWFUL GARDNER, who seems to have withdrawn from public life for a few months past, turned up again yesterday. He has gone into the California business—selling tickets to emigrants. A man from the country intending to go to California, was importuned by GARDNER to buy a ticket of him, and declining to do so was struck a blow on his face which broke his lower jaw. We have not heard of GARDNER's arrest.

☞ A young man went to NIBLO's a week ago last Thursday, tendered a half-dollar and passed in. On Saturday he went to the same place, and found himself collared for passing counterfeit money—a five dollar bill, it was said. Without opportunity for remonstrance, he was, as we have received the story, locked up for the night, taken to Essex Market the next morning, and, on the appearance of his uncle from Brooklyn, was set at liberty, no one testifying against him. The young gentleman has brought us very respectable endorsers, and he thinks his treatment was very unjust.

☞ The alarm of fire for the Seventh District, about 10 o'clock last night, was occasioned by the igniting of a package of some chemical substance, placed outside the store, corner of Cedar and Washington streets.

☞ The Atlantic will bring two statues, which are to be presented by Mr. STONE to the Mercantile Library Association. One represents Silence.

(Advertisement.)

FULL LIFE-SIZE PHOTOGRAPHIC PORTRAITS ON CANVAS.—The public are respectfully invited to call and inspect our full life-size Photographs, which are taken at no other establishment in the world.

Photographs in oil, pastel and water colors of any size, colored by our Parisian Artists, and finished in a style unequaled by imitators. Photographs of every description made from Daguerreotypes of deceased persons. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

GUERNEY & FREDERICKS, No. 349 Broadway, and No. 46 Rue basse du Rempart, Paris.

(Advertisement.)

FOR PRESERVING FRUITS, PEACHES, TOMATOES, VEGETABLES, GREEN CORN, &c.—The unequaled demand for LUDLOW & Co.'s Self-sealing Cans is conclusive evidence of their efficacy and economy, being the only kind that do not require soldering or wax. Persons of putting up an article that every one can understand. Parties have only to examine to approve. Manufactured and sold by TAYLOR & McCARTHY, No. 60 Beekman-street.

(Advertisement.)

HARVEST SPIKE AHEAD.—Crowded to the wall of the Hall, the public have changed to one the new cutting of the steel Cradle, the new reaper, the Cradle, and the Reaper at large, whose merits shall constitute a Premium. Hence, with power to fill all orders, the Cradle, Reaper, &c., are offered to the public, at the Office of the Cradle Company, 1 Park-row, opposite Astor House, with all your wants, and the Cradle, Reaper, &c., will be sent to the address of the purchaser, free of charge, by the Cradle Company.

(Advertisement.)

BRADY'S PATENT SHIRT-MAKER, No. 1 Park-row, opposite Astor House, with all your wants, and the Cradle, Reaper, &c., will be sent to the address of the purchaser, free of charge, by the Cradle Company.

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

Fine Markets are Taken Place.

Sales at the Stock Exchange.... Sept. 4.

$1,000 Ohio 6s, '76	105¼	50 Clev. C. & Cin.	109
50 Wm. Missouri 6s	69¾	50 Clev. & Pitts. R.	77¾
10,000 do.	69¾	50 Cal. & Ohio R. R.	60
6,000 California 7s '70	98	100 Clev. & Tol. R.	42
1,000 Harlem 1st M. Bs	100	100 do.	42
1,000 Harlem 2d M. Bs	100	100 Mich. Cen. R.	80
1,000 Albany Bk. Certs.	70	100 Hud. R. Railroad	42
1,000 Erie Conv. Bs, '85	85
1,000 Erie Sdr 6s sec	97	50 do.	42
1,000 do.	97	100 do.	42
1,000 Erie Sdr '76	97	100 Erie Railroad	22
1,000 do.	97	100 do.	22
20 Ind. B. & W. R. R.	22	100 do.	22
1,000 Ind. B. & W. R. R.	70	100 do.	22
1,000 Ind. B. & W. R. R.	70	100 do.	22
1,000 Ill. Cen. R. Bds	84	100 do.	22
1,000 I. C. C. & Dub.	84	100 do.	22
1,000 Ill. Cen. R. Bds	84	100 do.	22
20 Manhattan Co.	61	100 do.	22
20 Continental Bank	100	100 do.	22
200 Canton Company	60	100 do.	22
100 do.	60	100 do.	22
10 Nic. Transit Co.	19	100 do.	22
200 do.	60	100 do.	22
400 do.	60	100 do.	22
200 do.	60	100 Harlem Railroad	9
100 do.	60	100 do.	9
100 do.	60	100 do.	9
100 do.	60	100 do.	9
100 do.	60	100 Reading R. R.	69
25 Penn Coal Co.	39	100 do.	69
50 do.	39	100 do.	69
50 do.	39	100 do.	69
50 do.	39	100 do.	69
100 do.	39	100 do.	69
200 Cumberland Coal Co.	27	200 do.	69
100 do.	27	100 do.	69
100 do.	27	100 do.	69
100 do.	27	100 do.	69
100 do.	27	100 do.	69
100 do.	27	100 do.	69
100 do.	27	100 do.	69
200 do.	27	100 M S & N In R. Reitos.	34
200 do.	27	100 do.	101
100 do.	27	100 do.	101
100 New Creek Coal Co.	3	100 do.	101
100 Ward Coal Co.	18	13 New-Jersey R. R.	135

BETWEEN BOARDS.

SIMEON DRAPER sold to-day, at the Merchants' Exchange, at 12½ o'clock:

15 shares Chatham Bank Stock	99
10 shares St. Nicholas Bank Stock	95½
102 shares Webster Fire Insurance Co. Stock	6
200 shares Proprietors of City of Brunswick Stock	4½
60 shares Galena and Chicago R. R. Co. Stock	111½
110 shares Del., Lackawanna & Western R.R. Stock	76
300 shares Ohio & Miss. R. R. Stock (East Divis'n)	11½
100 shares Ohio & Miss. R. R. Stock (East Divis'n)	11

SECOND BOARD.

$3,000 Ill. Cen. R. R. Bs.	84½	200 Erie Railroad	22
10,000 Louisiana 6s	85	100 do.	22
100 Harlem Railroad	9	100 do.	22
100 Reading Railroad	69	200 do.	22
100 do.	69	100 do.	22
17 do.	69	100 do.	22
200 do.	69	100 do.	22
100 Ill. Cen. Railroad	84	50 do.	22
50 Mich. So. & N.I. R. R.	120	100 do.	22
50 do.	120	100 do.	22
200 Mich. Cen. R. R.	80	100 do.	22
100 Clevel. & Pitts. R. R.	77	50 do.	22
100 Clevel. & Tol. R. R.	42	100 Galena & Chic. R. R.	110

TUESDAY, Sept. 4—P. M.

The rates of Foreign Exchange for the steamer Pacific, sailing at noon to-morrow, were less firm than for the previous packet, particularly on England, the offerings being large, both of home drawn bills and Canadian. The most of the business in first-class names was done at 109¾ ⅌ cent., and in some instances 109¾ was accepted. One or two of the regular Bankers drew at 109¾; others making settlements at 110. French Bills were again scarce, and the demand was mainly supplied by the leading Continental drawers. AUGUST BELMONT, at 5.12½. The engagements of Specie for the steamer up to 3 o'clock amounted to only $300,000, but nearly an equal sum goes to Canada as the proceeds of bills done in this market by the Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway. The readiness with which money is now loaned at 7 ⅌ cent. has the effect of diminishing the export movement of Gold by the Bankers. They employ the proceeds of their bills here at this rate of interest, and expect to remit to a good profit thirty or sixty days hence in Exchange made against the new Grain and Cotton crop. The market for Money, to-day, was quiet. The comparatively moderate business at the Stock Exchange keeps the demand for call loans within the means offering in the Street at 7 ⅌ cent. The Bank Statement of this morning, though not wearing a favorable look, had little or no influence. The accounts from the West about the probable supplies of Produce to be sent to New-York this Fall are of the most encouraging tone; Exchange is down in Cincinnati to 1⅛⅌ cent in anticipation of this movement, and there is a good request for Eastern Bank Notes for circulation, in place of Gold, which it was expected some weeks ago would have to be sent to the interior to move the crop. The Sub-Treasury balance was increased to-day $117,940, making the total $5,477,743.

The buyers of Erie Shares are encouraged by the forthcoming official tabular statement of the earnings, expenses and interest payments of the first nine months of the Railroad year, ending June 30, and the sales this afternoon show an advance of nearly 1 ⅌ cent. The statement referred to, which we are promised in season for our next paper, we understand will show a diminished rate of transportation expenses of about 2 ⅌ cent, compared with last year, while the gross earnings, upon which these are calculated, have gone up $197,434. The other Road Stocks sold a fraction lower to-day, closing this afternoon at 94¾ for Reading; 86¾ for Toledo, and 101½ for Southern Michigan. Railway Bonds and State Stocks were fairly maintained, but the business not heavy. The European orders filled for this packet were moderate. The new loans of the Western Companies are much less active than in July and early in August. The general market was steady at the close, and favorably influenced by the demand for Erie.

Mr. SCHOONMAKER, the Superintendent of the Bank Department, at Albany, has compiled, with much care and labor, a complete and in every particular reliable volume of all the Banking Laws of the State of New-York, with an appendix, giving the necessary forms of all certificates, bonds, &c., to be used under them, and full instructions in regard to all transactions with the Bank Department. The edition of the work is limited, and is now on sale by GOULD, BANKS & Co., Law Booksellers, of this City.

ADRIAN H. MULLER will hold his regular sale of Stocks to-morrow, at 12½ o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange.

Money Circulars for the Continent.

(Partial Translation.)

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Sept. 4, 1855.

Since our advices of 27th of August, the increasing demand for money then noticed has continued to be felt, and also there is nothing approaching a scarcity, yet the rate of interest has advanced 1 ⅌ cent. The influence of this change in the Money Market has made itself felt upon Stocks, by a general downward tendency in prices, and in some cases by a marked decline. Except in the more speculative Stocks there has been great inaction.

Some of the United States 6s, 1867-68, have been sold at 117½; Indiana 5s have declined 1½; Louisiana 6s, 1; Missouri 6s, ½; and North Carolina 6s, 1 ⅌ cent. California 6s have risen ½; Virginia 6s, and Tennessee 6s, without Sustention, have given rise to but small sales.

Transactions in City and County Bonds continue extremely limited. We quote some decline on Chicago, Pittsburg, and St. Louis 6s, and decreases and New Orleans 6s.

In Railroad Bonds, which we transmitted privately we have the same inaction to notice. Transactions have been but small, with a disposition to favor the buyer. In the public Bonds there were done in limited amounts Erie Sixes of 1868 at a decline of ½; Sixes of 1871 down ¼, Sixes of 1872 down 1½, and Sixes of 1873 down ½ ⅌ cent. Considerable sales of Illinois Central Conversion Bonds were effected, closing at ½ ⅌ cent. decline, and moderate amounts of

NEW-JERSEY.

Quoits.

The return match, between Mr. RAE, of the Atlantic Hotel, Jersey City, and Mr. BEATTY, of the Hudson County Hotel, for $25 a side, was played on Saturday, on the ground attached to the Old Thatched Cottage, Jersey City. BEATTY, as in the match he played on his own ground, came off victorious—the pitching on Saturday was inferior to that of the preceding week, at Bergen. NESBITT and BRYDEN played the best of the party. TURNER must improve wonderfully before he again appears in a match. BEATTY named HAWK NEW-KIRK—Quoits weighed 8¾ pounds, measured 5 inches in diameter, and G. DUNNING—Quoits weighed 9¼ pounds, measured 6 inches in diameter. RAE named WM. BRYDEN—Quoits weighed 9¼ pounds, measured 6¼ inches in diameter, and NATHANIAL TURNER—Quoits weighed 8¾ pounds, measured 7¼ inches in diameter. Judges—MARSHALL, of New-York, and KERR, of Jersey City. The distance they pitched was twenty-one yards—just three yards too long. The game stood, RAE, 19 to 21, and 17 to 21. The second game was very closely contested, and the Referee, (JOHN VANDERBILT,) was called in to settle the final throw—there was an eighth of an inch difference.

MARRIED

In this City, on Thursday, Aug. 30, at Ry 19 Jane-st, by Rev. John Brech, Mr. WILLIAM BARR, of St. Louis to Miss JESSIE REID WRIGHT, daughter of Mr. John Wright, of this City.

In this City, on Sunday, Sept. 2, by Rev. M. Tuttle, Rector of St. Luke's Church, WILLIAM S. GRATTAN, of Philadelphia, to Miss MALVINIA REILY, of this City.

In this City, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at Madison-square Presbyterian Church, by Rev. Gordon Parker, DAVID WETMORE to CAROLINE E. BERRY, All of this City.

In Brooklyn, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, by Rev. Dr. Diller, Col. H. J. ENGLE to Miss MARTHA VOTHY.

In Brooklyn, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, in the Church of the Holy Trinity, by Rev. William H. Lewis D. D., Mr. JOHN MERRY to Miss MARY ELOISE DOMINICK, all of Brooklyn.

DIED.

In this City, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, CHRISTINA A., wife of James N. Gifford, aged 38 years.

The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, from her late residence, No. 116 West 11th st., on to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, without further invitation.

In this City, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, Miss JOANNA MARIE, aged 55 years.

Funeral will take place from her late residence, No. 194 Tompkins-st., on Thursday, 6th inst.

In this City, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, JOSEPHINE BRUSH, youngest daughter of Samuel W. and Martha C. Hawley, in the 12th year of her age.

The friends and relatives of the family are respectfully invited to attend her funeral, on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from the residence of her father, No. 40 Bank-st., without further invitation.

In this City, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at the residence of her parents, (Western Hotel,) Mrs. FREDERICK HAND, only daughter of A. D. Winchester, aged 20 years, 10 months and 2 days.

Relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, at the Western Hotel, on Thursday, 6th inst., at 3 o'clock P. M.

In Brooklyn, on Monday, Sept. 3, HENRY D. BOOT, of Greenfield, Mass., aged 21 years.

In Brooklyn, on Saturday, Sept. 1, at No. 29 Cook-st., ELIZABETH, daughter of Mr. Jas. Jenkins, aged 2 years, 2 months and 10 days.

At Bayport, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, Rev. LEWIS, in the 84th year of his age.

The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, at his late residence, on Thursday, 6th inst., at 10 o'clock A. M.

At Rahway, on Monday, Sept. 3, ANN GRANDIN, wife of Rev. Seth Cook, aged 70 years.

The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, at the residence of her son, Mr. Jas. Cook, on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock P. M.

At Rome, Oneida Co., on Sunday, Aug. 26, Mrs. ELIZABETH, widow of the late Rev. Jas. Gallup, of Newark, N. J., in the 84th year of her age.

At East Chester, on Sunday, Sept. 2, at the residence of

(Advertisement.)

DURENO's invaluable Catarrh Snuff is now for sale in New-York City, by HEGEMAN, CLARK & Co., No. 165 Broadway; Jo. J. Coddington, No. 714 Broadway; C. ADAMSON, No. 260 Broadway; L. LEROY, No. 771 Broadway; H. THIEMER, No. 22 Whitehall-street; DELLUC & Co., No. 585 Broadway; JOHN MEARES, No. 497 Broadway; C. J. COOK, No. 41 Canal-street; S. R. SMITH, No. 48 Greenwich-street; T. H. WARSTAFF, No. 282 Greenwich-street; C. SMITH, No. 277 Greenwich-street. Boxes, with name and trade mark in full on each. Price 25 cents. At wholesale by STEPHEN PAUL & Co., No. 140 Chambers-street.

(Advertisement.)

DESHLER'S FEVER AND AGUE PILLS.

THE MOST CONVENIENT,

SAFEST,

AND ONLY RADICAL CURE FOR

FEVER AND AGUE.

Sold by C. D. DESHLER, Agent, at the dépôt, No. 241 Broadway, New-York, and by all respectable dealers.

(Advertisement.)

SPECIAL NOTICE

TO PATENT SNATCHERS!

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN!

There will soon be a chance for stealing!

I am about to introduce a new invention!

THADDEUS HYATT,

No. 120 West Broadway, New-York.

(Advertisement.)

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are famous in cases of termination of blood to the head, and save the lives of thousands who suffer from Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints and Bile. Sold at the Manufactories, 80 Maiden-lane, New-York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all Druggists, at 25 cents, 62½ cents and $1 per box.

(Advertisement.)

☞ JESSE G. HEATON'S Green Turtle Soup at No. 835 Broadway, corner Thirteenth-street, is as far superior under that name, as Gen. WASHINGTON is to Gen. PIERCE. Try it, and you will find it what the people wish; that is truth.

(Advertisement.)

☞ THE MOST COMPLETE Pen and Pencil Case we have seen, is manufactured by W. M. WILMARTH, No. 44 Maiden-lane. It is called "Lowndes' Patent," and surpasses in beauty and durability any combination of pen and pencil hitherto offered to the public. They are made both in gold and silver.

(Advertisement.)

☞ We have recently examined a new style of Picture at BRADY's, No. 359 Broadway. They are taken upon glass, and have the varied advantages of greater durability, instantaneous production and total lack of the metallic glare, so common in the daguerreotype.

(Advertisement.)

☞ For protection against mosquitoes and insects, HASKIN's Patent Improved Portable Canopy and Net. A sure guarantee against mosquitoes, without obstructing the circulation of air.

W. STRATTON, Sole Agent,

No. 90 Chambers-street, New-York.

(Advertisement.)

CHANDELIERS.—The attention of buyers is solicited to our stock of Gas Fixtures, at the Warerooms, Nos. 85 and 87 John-st. Our designs are entirely new and original, and well worthy of examination by the trade. MITCHELL, BAILEY & Co., Manufacturers.

(Advertisement.)

☞ Photographs, plain and colored Ambrotypes and Daguerreotypes, at BRADY's, No. 359 Broadway, over THOMPSON's saloon.

(Advertisement.)

BLAKE'S PATENT FIRE-PROOF PAINT, No. 119 Pearl-street. See advertisement in another column.